U.N. Backs U.S., Raps Korea War Atrocities

Resolution Is Passed 42-5, Reds Protest

Assembly Expresses 'Grave Concern' Over Record of War Crimes

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U.N. General Assembly today expressed its "grave concern" at Red atrocities in Korea and approved an American call for stiff condemnation of such actions.

Over bitter Soviet opposition, the 60-Nation Assembly approved a western-sponsored resolution of condemnation by a vote of 42 to 5.

Follows 3-Day Debate

The balloting followed three days of vitriolic debate in which Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. of the United States accused the North Koreans and Chinese Communists of killing nearly 38,000 U.N. soldiers and civilians in Korea as a part of high Kremlin policy.

Five negative votes were cast by the Soviet bloc. Ten abstentions were mostly by Asian and Arab nations.

According to terms of the resolution, sponsored by the U.S., Britain, France, Turkey and Australia, the Assembly specifically:

"1. Expresses its grave concern at reports and information that North Korean and Chinese Communist forces have, in a large number of instances, employed inhuman practices against the heroic soldiers of forces under the United Nations command in Korea and against the civilian population in Korea.

Further Provisions

"2. Condemns the commission by any governments or authorities of murder, mutilation, torture, and other atrocious acts against captured military personnel or civilian populations, as a violation of rules of international law and basic standards of conduct and morality and as affronting human rights and the dignity and worth of the human person."

Vishinsky said he and his allies voted against the resolution because it was "libelous, spurious and hypocritical."

India already had announced she would not vote on the resolution, explaining this was because of her position as head of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission.

Before the vote, a heated debate had included stinging denunciation of Red atrocities by a parade of Western nations and angry counter thrusts from the Soviet bloc. The latter sought to prove that American and South Korean troops were the real atrocity perpetrators.

The final result was a verbal duel between Chief U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. and Russia's Andrei Vishinsky.

At the peak of the debate, Lodge charged that North Korea's military commander, Gen. Nam Il, masterminded the bloody Koje prison riots during the armistice negotiations at Panmunjom. Lodge also challenged Russia to let an International Red Cross committee make an unfettered check of the U.S.-alleged Red atrocities in Korea.

Potter (R) Michigan (left) before telling a Senate committee that the Communists in Korea subjected captured GIs to "brutality...unparalleled in the history of modern warfare." Potter charged that Russian U.N. delegate Andrei Vishinsky "lied" in denying atrocity charges. Sgt. Wendell Treffery, 25, of Terryville, Conn., (right) told the committee about his treatment as a war prisoner in Korea for 30 months.

Top-Secret D-Day Plans Snatched by Silvermaster Ring

Soviets' Master Spy Enlisted Air Force Major as Key Aide

By ELIZABETH BENTLEY
North American Newspaper Alliance

NEW YORK, Dec. 3—Despite the elaborate precautions taken by the U. S. to safeguard the secrecy of D-Day, the little-known fact is that the Soviet espionage network operating in Washington had discovered the fateful date far in advance of its occurrence and had transmitted it to the Russian secret police in this country.

Even the American spies themselves were overwhelmed with the gigantic success in stealing so closely guarded a secret. Some of us even doubted the information could be accurate. But subsequent events proved that it was absolutely correct.

The spy ring headed by Nathan Gregory Silvermaster was probably the most active espionage group operating in Washington. Silvermaster was never an open member of the Communist party and his group was not an official cell.

When he went to Washington in 1935, he was told by Earl Browder not to tie himself up with any Communist unit but to act as a "sleeper agent," gathering around him persons who would be able to steal information.

WITH THE HELP of his wife, Helen, daughter of a Russian Baltic baron and a woman with a history of long involvement in the revolutionary movement, he carried out his instructions with amazing success.

Principal agents of the group Silvermaster built around him included among others William L. Ullman, who lived in the Silvermaster home in Washington. Ullman, a major of the U. S. Army Air Forces stationed at the Pentagon, was a prime source of information. He obtained and photographed all kinds of secret data concerning U. S. war plans as well as reports of the FBI which were furnished to G-2 of the Army at the Pentagon.

Another was Harry Dexter White, the high-placed Treasury official who was in charge of monetary research and foreign funds control. Still another was George Silverman, employee of the War Department.

The bulk of the military information furnished the Soviet secret police was the result of the work of Ullman and Silverman.

Other members of the Silvermaster group included Frank Coe, Lauchlin Currie, Irving Kaplan (who paid his Communist party dues through the Victor Perlo spy group) and Sol Adler.

WHEN KAPLAN applied for a post with the Federal Works Agency in 1942, he used the names of Currie and George Silverman as character references. This was part of the over-all scheme whereby members of the spy network were obligated to aid their coconspirators to advance to higher positions of trust and importance by recommendations and favored treatment.

Fourth of a Series

But the agents were active, too, in filling lesser posts with persons who would be useful to the espionage ring. For example, at one time Harry Dexter White had a vacancy for a second secretary in his office. He communicated with Helen Silvermaster and notified her he wanted a secretary who was a Communist.

The reason, he said, was that he wanted to leave important documents around which she could remove from the office.

Helen Silvermaster accordingly went to the Baltimore headquarters of the Communist party, obtained the name of a suitable candidate and sent word to her to

Program Set Here By Legion To Help Fight Communism

An information program on "How To Stop Communism" will be held at Harding High School Jan. 28. Mayor Harold F. Robinson Tuesday signed a proclamation urging Marionites to support the program.

Main speaker of the event will be Dr. Gaylen Starr Ross, president of Capitol College in Columbus, a small speech school. The program is being sponsored by the Bird-McGinnis American Legion Post No. 162, and is free to the public. It begins at 8 p.m.

Dr. Gerald W. Strauss, commander of the Legion post, said the program had been arranged in cooperation with the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Featured will be recordings of actual Communist group meetings.

Also demonstrated will be electronic devices used to secure information about communist activities in America.

In his proclamation, Mayor Robinson called upon the citizens to rid America of the communist menace by exercising their constitutional rights. He attacked those who would destroy the constitution by invoking the fifth amendment.

Senators Hear Vets Describe Red Atrocities

WASHINGTON (AP)—Seven more Korean War veterans, witnesses to Communist atrocities, were called today to tell their stories in public.

Sen. Potter (R-Mich), presiding at the Senate hearings, said they would help pinpoint a pattern of Communist brutality and torture.

Men and officers who were left as dead by Korean Communists unfolded a gruesome story of personal heroism and survival at the opening sessions yesterday before Potter's one-man Senate investigations subcommittee.

After listening to these accounts, Potter said the Korean War may prove to be "the most courageous" chapter in American military history.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Army chief of staff and former commander in Korea, said evidence showed a "studied and calculated course of criminal misconduct" by Communist leaders "to exterminate prisoners of war in one way or another."

As a result, he said, American soldiers now will get tougher training "for their sake and for their country's honor and integrity."

The hearings were timed to strengthen support for the resolution now pending before the United Nations Assembly to condemn such atrocities.

McCarthy Stands by Guns, Denies Try for Leadership

Spy Probers Bow to Terms On Gouzenko

Jenner Subcommittee Will Interview Tipster On Espionage Secret

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate internal security subcommittee went ahead with public hearings in Washington today after accepting the Canadian government's terms for a secret interview with Igor Gouzenko in Canada.

At today's Communists-in-government hearing, the subcommittee expected to receive Justice Department records showing when FBI reports were sent top federal officials on some of the late Harry Dexter White's associates in the Treasury Department.

Three Persons Named

Information of this nature was sought on V. Frank Coe, Victor Perlo and Solomon Adler—all of whom, like White, have been named before the subcommittee as onetime members of a Soviet spy network within the government.

Atty. Gen. Brownell touched off the investigations Nov. 6 when he charged former President Truman promoted White in 1946 in the face of FBI reports linking White to Russian espionage.

Subcommittee Chairman Jenner (R-Ind) announced the decision on Gouzenko late yesterday after a meeting in his office.

The senator made public a letter to Secretary of State Dulles asking that secret arrangements be made for the interview so that Gouzenko's security would be protected.

Fled Soviets in 1945

Gouzenko fled from the Soviet Embassy in Ottawa, where he had been a code clerk, in September 1945, and tipped off Canadian authorities to a Russian spy ring operating in Canada with contacts in the United States. He has been living in Canada in anonymity under protection of the Royal Mounted Police.

Whether Gouzenko will agree to being questioned by the subcommittee is in doubt. He was quoted earlier this week as saying he would decline to be interviewed for fear of jeopardizing the safety of his wife, two children and himself. Authorities at Ottawa said last night the mounted police would find out from Gouzenko whether he is willing to be questioned.

He told the Mounties last Oct. 27 he has no new information, but subsequently he made a statement in which he said he felt he could give the Jenner subcommittee some useful advice.

Laniel Arrives For Big Three Bermuda Talks

French Leader Ready To Press for Pledges Of Lengthy U.S. Help

TUCKER'S TOWN, Bermuda (AP)—France's Premier Joseph Laniel arrived today for the Big Three Bermuda conference, reportedly determined to press for new long term pledges of support in Europe from Britain and the United States.

Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden were on hand at Kindley Field to meet Laniel, Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, and a team of 17 experts from the French foreign office. President Eisenhower will arrive tomorrow for the five days of conferences which open that afternoon.

Laniel was reported also ready to tell Britain and the United States that France is prepared to examine any peace offers made officially by Ho Chi Minh, the Moscow-educated general who has been directing the long war in Indochina against the French.

To the Americans, the major task of the conference is to prod the balky French National Assembly into ratifying the European Defense Community Pact. It provides for a unified West European army including troops from France's long-time enemy Germany.

Laniel can promise nothing because his government must resign Jan. 17, a month after France's new President is elected. But he reportedly was bringing a raft of conditions which French sources say must be met before there is

Services Face Big Shortage In Career Men

Military Heads Say Situation Acute, Ask For Increase in Pay

WASHINGTON (AP)—A group of generals and admirals called today for a military pay boost and other actions to halt what they termed an alarming deterioration in the career military service.

"Military service has lost much of its attractiveness as a career," said a study committee named by Secretary of Defense Wilson last spring at the direction of President Eisenhower.

"Unless the present trend of career personnel leaving the service can be reversed, most serious consequences to the national defense effort will result."

Asst. Secretary of Defense John Hannah, in making public the report of the five-man committee, said it would receive careful attention from the military services, the Defense Department and the

Second Group Of ROKs Elect To Remain Red

Allied Interviewers Blanked Again; Try Next 30 Tomorrow

PANMUNJOM (AP) — A second group of 30 South Koreans today unanimously chose life under the Communists, giving Allied persuaders a total blank for two days of efforts to woo home balky war prisoners.

There was no violence, but many prisoners were more talkative than the 30 who yesterday listened passively to ROK explainers, then chose communism.

The U. N. Command said 30 more South Koreans of 328 who refused repatriation will be interviewed tomorrow.

Americans Not Interviewed

There was no indication when 22 Americans and 1 Briton who stayed with the Communists will be called.

Negotiators working on plans for a Korean peace conference, meanwhile, met for 3½ hours and apparently made no progress.

U. S. envoy Arthur H. Dean warned the Reds that their insistence on seating Russia as neutral might stall the conference "indefinitely and perhaps forever."

Sing Government Songs

The Communists rejected Dean's plan for setting up a peace conference but did not mention specifically his proposal that Russia attend as a third party with full voting rights rather than as a Communist belligerent or a neutral.

Some South Korean prisoners interviewed Thursday marched into the explanation tents singing Com-

Lauds Dulles, But Repeats His Criticism

Says He Won't Remain Silent if He Thinks Mistake Is Being Made

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R—Wis) stuck to his guns today in his disagreement with the administration on foreign policy, but said any contention that he is challenging President Eisenhower's GOP leadership is "both ridiculous and untrue."

In a prepared statement, McCarthy said "I will continue to give my utmost support to the Republican party now and in the future" but he emphasized:

"This does not mean that I will refrain from criticizing my party when I think it is making mistakes."

He praised both Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles in the statement, but said he still thinks this country should refuse dollar aid to any Allied nation "shipping any goods to Communist China so long as a single American remained in a Communist blood-stained dungeon."

"On this matter Secretary Dulles and I are in complete disagreement," McCarthy said.

"In a republic such as ours there must be room for honest difference of opinion. I respect the honesty and sincerity of purpose of Secretary Dulles."

Urges Reappraisal

"However, I have such deep convictions on this subject that I shall continue to discuss the matter at every opportunity and I urge Secretary Dulles to reappraise our whole policy on this regard.

"It is my hope that such a reappraisal may result in a change of policy in this respect."

McCarthy's statement was a reply to the one-two punch thrown at him by Eisenhower and Dulles as a result of McCarthy's radio-TV speech last week criticizing administration foreign policy.

Dulles hit at McCarthy's views Tuesday as striking at the very heart of United States foreign policy. Yesterday, President Eisenhower said he was in full accord with Dulles' statements.

Ike Takes Issue

Eisenhower also took issue with the Wisconsin senator's declaration that the Communists in government issue will be a major one in next year's congressional election.

The President appeared, however, to have left the door open for full-blast continuation of congressional hunts for spies and subversives during the Truman administration.

The President said that by election time he expects his administration's new security measures will have put an end to public fear of communism in government.

McCarthy, in his statement, repeated that Communists in government will be an issue. In fact, he declared, it will be "the most important political issue for many years to come."

Cites Aid to Ike

McCarthy said he believes he had spent about as much time as anyone campaigning for Eisenhower in the 1952 election.

"I would do the same again as I have a great deal of admiration for the President and think he has an excellent record for the time

Long-Term Program

Joint Chiefs Recommend Gradual Defense Change

NEW YORK (AP)—Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, says the JCS favor a gradual—not radical—change in the national defense setup based on a long-term program.

The admiral, speaking last night before the American Ordnance Assn., did not mention the "new look" ordered by the Eisenhower administration after installing a new slate of members for the Joint Chiefs organization.

The Russians, Radford said, are capable of touching off a shooting war triggered by a "small group of men in the Kremlin."

Three Pronged Method

He said the Soviet system includes a three-pronged method of gaining objectives: politico-economic, military, and psychological-propaganda. If one of them is turned back, he said, another is used.

In view of Russia's objectives, he said, talk, "and other planning factors, the new Joint Chiefs of Staff considered it absolutely mandatory that we not make any recommendations for radical changes—especially not on an overnight basis." He added:

Further Conclusion

"In discussing this with Secretary (of Defense) Wilson, we agreed that the best defense plans and programs will come about through evolution, if we plan deliberately and with wisdom.

"We further agreed that even though our military plans are based primarily on military factors, we must also take into ac-

Marion Whips Milwaukee 5-1 To Take Third Place

Prince Suffers Fractured Knee, May Sit Out Season

The Marion Barons whipped Milwaukee's Chiefs here last night 5-1 to climb into undisputed possession of third place in the league race.

The local club, with 11 wins and 10 losses, hold down third place with 22 points. Each league win accounts for two points while a tie awards one point in the league standings. The Barons are a single point out of second place where Grand Rapids and Johnstown are tied with 23. Cincinnati is at the top of the heap with 25 points.

On Road Tonight

The Barons continue their drive for the top tonight when they appear at Louisville. Saturday night they travel to Toledo and return here Sunday afternoon for a return match with the Mercurys.

Gloom surrounded the camp of the Barons today despite last night's impressive win against the Chiefs. Jerry Prince, injured in the first period, may be lost for the season.

He crashed into the boards at the north end of the rink after four minutes of play. Helped from the ice, Prince returned for a brief stint later but was unable to play. X-rays revealed a fractured left kneecap, a Baron spokesman said today.

Prince has been one of the big guns in the Marion team's climb from the cellar. In his last four games, Prince has banged in six goals, including one for the Cleveland Barons last Saturday night against Buffalo in an American League game.

The teams locked horns in a scoreless duel for the first 15 minutes of the game before Kenny Schultz broke the scoring ice. Schultz batted in a rebound after a shot by Tony Poeta had been blocked. Poeta and Ted Lebioda were credited with assists on the score. It came at 15:54. Gordie Vejprava belted the disc past Goalie Bob Arniel two minutes later. He took a pass from Dutch Delmonte to score at 17:43 as the Barons finished the first period with a 2-0 lead.

Clinch Verdict

The Barons wasted little time in the second period before clinching the verdict over the International Hockey League cellar-dwellers. Vejprava stole the puck from a Milwaukee forward and skated the length of the rink to score. His backhand shot sailed by Arniel after 3:19 of the period had passed. The score was unassisted.

Dutch Delmonte made it 4-0 when he scored at 6:47 of the same period. Phil Vitale waa credited with an assist when he passed off to Delmonte.

The Chiefs' first goal also came in the second period. Joe Formica scored after taking a relay from Pete Mandrow and Tiny Tammineen. He shot from about six feet in front of the net after a scramble had deflected another try for a score.

Steve Brklacich, one of the Barons' top defense men, came up with the game's final tally. He scored at the 17:45 mark. Wimpy Jones and Delmonte figured in the play and were awarded assists.

Final Period Scoreless

The third period was played without a score and not a penalty was called during the last 20 minutes of play. Only five penalties were assessed during the game, all minor. Three were against the visitors while Marion was charged with two.

Arniel stole the show for the Chiefs. He batted away 35 Baron attempts at the goal. Lou Crowdis, after an easy opening period, also was kept busy. Despite the fact he handled only five scoring attempts in the first stanza, he ended the game with 29 saves. Fifteen of them came in the third frame.

Louisville Hockey Coach Steps Aside

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Alex Wood, coach of the Louisville Stars hockey team in the International League, resigned last night to "save the club the added expense of my salary."

Wood made the announcement from his Fort Wayne, Ind., home, adding: "I believe that's the way they want it. I've gone along with them this far. Now they can take it from here."

A player coach, probably center Ray Marshall, is expected to replace him.

Wood, who coached the Fort Wayne Komets last year, joined four Fort Wayne businessmen in reviving hockey here this season after an absence of three years.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

Marion football fans have been unduly alarmed since learning the Buckeye League was on the verge of folding.

SHORT

Several were worried that the Prexies would have trouble lining up suitable opponents for their grid contests.

While school authorities have made no official announcement, reports coming from the athletic office indicate the Prexy schedules for the next two years are pretty well established.

Nine games will be played next year with the local team meeting the same team it faced during the past year despite the passing of the Buckeye Loop. Six games are being scheduled at home with three on the road. Columbus Central will probably return to Marion. The Pirates playing most of their games in Columbus and fighting to draw from Capital City fans, find Harding a perfect foe for one of their few road games.

Bowling Green probably will leave the schedule in 1955 along with Tiffin but indications are that Newark, with whom Harding has always enjoyed athletic relations, will fill the spot.

Harding officials have contacted Portsmouth; No. 2 rated team in Ohio by the Associated Press, for a game in 1955, it was learned this week. The Trojans are willing to meet the Presidents but neither of their three open dates coincided with the open spots on the local slate.

HAPPY TIMES. Harding students, players and coaches aren't the only people glad to see the Prexies playing in their brand new gym this year. Al Ziemke, Fremont Ross mentor, is just as glad.

Al Coxon, Fremont sports writer tells us Ziemke feels he might finally be able to win a game here. Since the Ross coach moved in his teams have never been able to defeat Harding at the Coliseum or Edison Junior High School.

SATISFIED GRID COACH

PERU, Neb. (AP)—Coach Al Wheeler's first football team at Peru State Teacher's College back in 1938 won only one game. Wheeler expected repercussions but no one mentioned the poor record. Maybe that's why he has been here since, though he has had offers for better jobs as a result of undefeated seasons in 1940, '42, '52 and '53.

DEMPSEY TO SEE ABOUT "WEDDING" Former heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey (left) arrives in New York to talk over marriage "rumors" with Mrs. Harmon Spender Auguste, wealthy widow of a New York banker. She reportedly has inherited $35 million. Dempsey, who appeared surprised at reports the widow intended to marry him, said he would "mention it" to her.

Ex-Champion Says Marriage Possible

NEW YORK (AP)—Former heavyweight king Jack Dempsey says he is discussing marriage with multimillionairess Mrs. Harmon Spencer Auguste, but as yet they aren't engaged.

Dempsey was reached by telephone last night in a suite at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Concerning the possibility of engagement and marriage, the ex-champion said, "It may take weeks, it may take months."

There was no comment from Mrs. Auguste, whose late banker husband reportedly left her 35 million dollars.

Dempsey told newsmen yesterday he and Mrs. Auguste had "discussed marriage several times in the past."

Record High Sales Listed at Delaware

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—A record 373 harness horses were sold at auction for $244,340 in the three-day blooded horse sale ended here yesterday.

The average price of $655 bettered the previous record of $554 for 275 horses last year. Highest price paid yesterday was $4,100 for True Spencer, a stallion pacer. A. B. C. Farm, Malone, N. Y., bought the Castleton Farm, Lexington, Ky., horse.

J. H. Eyler, Thurmont, Md., paid the second highest price of the day—$3,700 for Jill's Boy, a 2-year-old pacer owned by McKinley Kirk of Washington Court House.

Top Pros Eye Prize Cash in Cuban Tourney

By BEN MEYER

HAVANA (AP)—The Havana Country Club's International Golf Tournament drew 29 of the top United States professionals today for the next to last chance for 1953 prize money.

Defending champion Dutch Harrison of Ardmore, Okla., took one look at the field and said:

"I don't think I'll be able to win this year."

Some of Harrison's colleagues promptly dubbed him "the doleful drawler" and observed he is only a year older than last year when he won the tournament with a 17 under par 271. Par for the Havana course is 37-35—72.

There are 31 pros in all, including two from Havana, participating in the three-day pro-amateur tournament. Art Wall of Pocono Manor, Pa., is scheduled to tee off first.

Each pro plays with two amateurs three days or 54 holes. On Sunday the pros add up their three-day scores and play 18 holes more to decide who gets what part of the $15,000 prize money. Harrison said he thought maybe Jim Demaret of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., looked like a good bet to win.

The first half-dozen money winners among the pros are entered. They include Lew Worsham, No. 1, and Doug Ford, No. 2, on the money-winning list. Other entries number Marty Furgol, Walter Burkemo and Julius Boros.

Kuenzli, Quail Placed on INS All-Ohio Squad

Two Upper Sandusky gridders were honored on this year's International New Service All - Ohio football team.

Keith Quail, 5-11, 185-pound senior, was named at a guard post on the all-state team while Dave Kuenzli, the state's leading scorer, was placed in the backfield on the second team. Both were instrumental in the success of this year's Ram team.

They were the only area players mentioned in the balloting. However, several players whom Harding faced the past season were honored. Ellison Kelly of Sandusky was named tackle on the second team while Lester Franks, Fremont Ross' speedy runner, was placed in the backfield on the third team.

Honorable mentions went to Don Harris of Columbus Central, an end; Dan McBride of Ashland, a guard; and Jon Jones of Fremont Ross, a center.

The all-state team consisted of Leo Brown of Portsmouth and Jim Letcavits of Massillon at ends; Bruce Schram of Massillon and Bill Kerr of Steubenville at tackles; Ron Agnes of Massillon and Quail at guards; Bill Van Buren of Lorain at center; Don Zimmerman of Dayton Chaminade at quarterback; and LeRoy Carr of Portsmouth, John Traylor of Massillon, and Jack Nichols of Canton Lehman as other backs.

Redlegs Obtain Crimian From St. Louis Cards

ATLANTA (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Redlegs kept the trading business at the minor league convention from being a complete dud by transacting a deal involving a pair of second line players yesterday.

The Cardinals acquired Alex Grammas, a young shortstop, in exchange for relief pitcher Jack Crimian. The Cards also paid out an estimated sum of $25,000.

Both Grammas and Crimian were in the minor league last season.

Grammas batted .307 for Kansas City and was named to the American Association All-Star team. Crimian had a 12-5 record at Rochester, working mainly in relief.

In the only other action involving major league business, Rollie Hemsley was named coach of the Philadelphia Athletics while Detroit signed Rick Ferrell.

Luke Sewell, former manager of the St. Louis Browns and Cincinnati Reds, was named manager of the Toronto Maple Leafs of the International Association succeeded.

Prexy Honored

Bob Hamor Wins Mention Among Ohio's Top Linemen

Harding's Bob Hamor reaped more honors today when the Associated Press announced he had received special mention in the balloting to pick the state's top high school lineman.

Dave Kuenzli and Keith Quail of Upper Sandusky also came in for their share of the plaudits. Kuenzli was runner-up for back-of-the-year laurels, while Quail, along with Hamor, figured in the voting for line honors.

The top honors in the state went to Portsmouth's fleet halfback LeRoy Carr and tackle Bruce Schramm of Massillon.

The Associated Press polled sportswriters, sportscasters and coaches throughout the state to determine Ohio's top back and lineman in the high school ranks.

A 175-pound tackle, Hamor has already been named to the all-Buckeye League team and is a top candidate for the all-state honors.

A three-year letterman, Hamor saw action on both offense and defense for the Prexies and was a bulwark in the line.

Kuenzli won the state scoring crown as he paced the Rams with 32 touchdowns and 35 conversions for 227 points. He also passed for six more scores and rushed 2,160 yards. A guard, Quail led the way on many of Kuenzli's touchdown jaunts.

The Upper Sandusky pair have already been named to the Chic Harley and INS all-state squads.

Only one Harding opponent was named in the balloting. He was Ellison Kelly of Sandusky who was mentioned for lineman honors.

Others who figured in the race for backfield plaudits were John Traylor of Massillon, Jack Nichols of Canton Lehman, John Martin of Coshocton, Don Sutherin of Toronto, Don Zimmerman of Dayton Chaminade, Dean Nicholson of Lisbon, John Francisco of Massillon, Pete Patterson of Wellston, Chuck Lima of Cincinnati Purcell, Dave Kimmel of Youngstown Ursline, Glenn Davis of Barberton, Dave Preston of Warren and Galen Cisco of St. Marys.

Linemen who were in the balloting were Spike Carter of Wellsville, Roy Goodwin of Jackson, Don Niederhauser of Toledo Clay, Jim Letcavits of Massillon, Bob Rizer of Springfield Catholic, Ron Fowler of Akron East, Harold Offenberger of Marietta, Ron Couch of Hamilton, Ron Agnes of Massillon, Willie Simmons of Warren, John Russel of Chauncey-Dover, Don Fronk of Dover, Martin Testa of Akron St. Vincent, Joe de Fillippo of Lancaster and John Floyd of Columbus North.

Rookies Facing Last Two Tests With Brownies

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coach Paul Brown's prize clutch of hardnosed rookies get only two more lessons with Cleveland's football pros before the Dec. 27 championship game. And the last part of their freshman course could be the most difficult—against New York here Sunday and then at Philadelphia Dec. 13.

Brown, who remarked even before the season started that the "rookies just have to come through this time," put his eighth straight division title on the shelf last Sunday. The seven first-year men came through—probably even better than Brown expected—with 10 consecutive victories.

Together with the four second-year apprentices, they put new speed in the Brown club which lost five games last year, including the inter-division championship playoff.

The Browns voted unanimously yesterday to cut their championship game receipts into 41 equal parts and give Coach Brown a share for the first time.

Brown, 34 players, Asst. Coaches Blanton Collier, Fritz Heisler, Howard Brinker and Weeb Ewbank, Trainer Leo Murphy and Asst. Trainer Morris Kono will get the shares.

Players getting cuts include Jerry Helluin and Don Steinbrunner, who were on the active list only part of the season.

British Farmer Complaining at Support Prices

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill's government is hearing rumblings over farm price supports similar to those plaguing the Eisenhower administration in Washington.

With at least one by-election pending in an agricultural constituency, the Conservative Party may find farm price policy one of the most explosive issues in the new session of parliament.

British farm prices have not been falling as have those in the United States and France, for example. But the traditionally conservative British farmers still are visibly worried that Churchill's policy of going back to a freer economy might damage their system of guaranteed prices despite government assurances that it will not.

Negotiations are going on now for a system to guarantee meat prices when meat comes off the ration next year for the first time since before the war on this crowded island of 50,000,000 persons.

There is a tug-of-war between the interests of farmers, butchers and consumers over how prices shall be determined once the government stops buying and selling all meat at fixed prices.

The grain situation has been settled only temporarily.

A complicated system of "deficiency payments" to guarantee prices next year, but at the same time reward the enterprising farmer, was devised when the government lifted all contols on grain and feedstuffs two months ago and returned the whole trade to private markets.

The National Farmers' Union accepted it, but a permanent system still has to be devised.

When eggs came off the ration earlier this year, the government devised a system of parity price supports similar to those in the United States to support egg prices.

The agricultural act of 1947, passed by the Socialists, guarantees the farmers markets and prices, and Churchill's Conservatives promised to continue to apply that principle. The uneasiness among farmers has come from the slowness to evolve a permanent system as agricultural products come out from under the long-time controls of Socialism and war.

A delegate at the recent Conservative Party conference warned bluntly that the Conservatives would lose 30 to 40 farm seats in any new election today because of that uneasiness and uncertainty.

The conference even asked the government to promote more confidence by greater clarity of its farm policy.

There is a by-election scheduled soon in the farming constituency of Ormskirk in Lancashire. It is a "safe" Conservative seat with a majority in the last election of nearly 84,000.

But the result of the by-election may show if the uneasiness among the farmers has affected the Conservatives' strength.

Farming is most important in Britain because it must import about half of its food. All governments, Conservative and Socialist, do everything possible to spur domestic production to lighten that burden.

British Railways officials estimate that 9,600 vehicles carry 12 million passengers a day in London.

Loophole in Security

As discussion about admitting wire-tapped evidence in federal court cases continues, one fact looms larger all the time.

Any subversive who arranged to handle all his espionage deals over the telephone would be untouchable under existing interpretations of federal law.

Even though his subversion might be detected and recorded legally by the FBI, the evidence so obtained could not be used against the culprit in court.

This has happened in the Judith Coplon case.

Yet, the same culprit could be confronted with the very same evidence of his crime and convicted if the evidence had been obtained by a machine which recorded his spoken conversation, by a stenographic transcription of a conversation, by a photostatic copy of a document, by ordinary eavesdropping, or by a photograph taken without his consent.

The issue in wire-tapping is not invasion of privacy. Privacy may be invaded in all kinds of ways in law enforcement. Wire-tapping is carried on freely by both federal and state law enforcers.

The issue is whether or not wire-tapped evidence is going to be admitted to the record in federal courts when offenders are charged with conspiracy to undermine the security of the United States.

When it is so stated, there is no issue at all. All that's involved is a matter of plugging up a loophole in national security.

But Is It Education?

The president of Yale University, A. Whitney Griswold, says colleges are reaping the whirlwind of teacher shortages in public school systems.

Students theoretically prepared for college work turn out to be so poorly educated, especially in reading and writing, that their instructors cannot deal with them at a collegiate level of education. This leads, in turn, to lower college standards, until—as Dr. Griswold points out—"colleges are giving creidt for everything from philosophy to fly-fishing."

Remarks like these by conscientious educators have slight effect on popular awareness of the teaching problem. The reason is that educators like the president of Yale University are talking about one kind of education and most Americans are thinking about the kind completed when students accumulate enough credits to entitle them to a certificate which says they have been educated.

The certificate may have been issued by a diploma mill but that is of no consequence to people encouraged to take it for granted that all educational institutions are the same.

Part of the solutiln to the problem of maintaining educational standards is to separate the sheep from the goats among institutions of higher learning.

The teacher shortage is not going to be solved by speeding up the diploma mills. That merely brings on an education shortage, which is what Dr. Griswold has been noticing.

Love Thy Enemy

Signs of civilization are still rare enough, all things considered, to make a lasting impression when they occur.

The whole world profited when Sir Winston Churchill's "enemies" in public affairs helped to celebrate his 79th birthday on Nov. 30. The unexpected tribute to the old gentleman on the floor of the House of Commons when Emrys Hughes, a fire-eating socialist, wishes "Enemy No. 1" many happy returns of the day was a stirring instant.

Too often in politics the impression is left on impressionable minds that men in disagreement about public matters are therefore in personal disagreement — that all disputes are unfriendly.

In civilied societies, it is possible to love an "enemy" while arguing over a matter of principle. Sir Winston is loved by England, including the Englishmen who disagree with him in public affairs.

Sauce for the Ganders

Gov. Lausche will send spokesmen to a meeting of 10 southern states toying with plans of revenge because their truckers must pay Ohio's ton-mile tax.

The spokesmen will point out that Ohio has no authority to suspend the tax to satisfy out-of-state truckers who threaten to have similar taxes enacted in their states unless they are given special preference in Ohio.

In plainer words, the spokesmen will tell the states of Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee, Kentucky, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana that Ohio intends to treat all truckers alike.

No other policy would make any sense.

The ton-mile tax was passed primarily to obtain revenue from interstate operators who were licensed outside Ohio and whose operations inside Ohio yielded no highway revenue other than that which came from their purchases of fuel while traveling over Ohio roads.

The law is doing what it was intended to do. Ohio's spokesmen at the 10-state meeting will be charged with the duty of making that clear.

What other states choose to do about the same problem is their business.

Big Retreat

By David J. Lawrence

Dulles Returns to Truman-Acheson Policy

The big retreat in American policy—retreat back to the Truman-Acheson foreign policy—has begun. It may yet involve not only recognition of Red China's government but an acquiescence in the resumption of trade by Great Britain and other governments with the Communist world.

Red China, although declared an aggressor by the United Nations, is to be treated as an equal because the Allies so will it.

On the surface, the secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, hit back at Sen. McCarthy's criticism of foreign policy but there have been in the past so many other differences of opinion expressed by Sen. Knowland and other Republican members of Congress without evoking a public rebuttal from the Department of State that this could not be the main reason for the pointed statement virtually yielding to the Allies what they have been asking for in recent months.

ALL THIS COMES on the eve of the Bermuda onference of the Big Three and just before the forthcoming meeting with Soviet Russia's foreign minister in Berlin.

The critics of the President and the secretary of state who have been trying to drive a wedge between many millions of Republicans—of whom Sen. McCarthy is only one—and the White House now have succeeded at last. This is not because the Wisconsin senator made a severe criticism of the administration.

It is because the secretary of state has just announced a turn in American policy which sets the stage not only for the failure of the whole Korean negotiation but for more trouble in the Far East as Syngman Rhee reads his death warrant in the statement just issued by Dulles.

THE SECRETARY'S declaration said in part:

"Today it is to our interest to assist certain countries. But that does not give us the right to try to take them over, to dictate their trade policies and to make them our satellites.

"Indeed, we do not want weak or subservient allies. Our friends and allies are dependable just because they are unwilling to be anyone's satellites. They will freely sacrifice much in a common effort. But they will be no more subservient to the United States they they will be subservient to Soviet Russia."

The foregoing, almost verbatim, has been the British argument for the last three years.

IT MEANS that the Allies will trade with Soviet Russia hereafter or with Communist China and that they will be permitted to forget that, when American boys were dying in Korea, British exports of rubber to Soviet Russia and thus to Red China were helping the Communist war effort.

Whether the Allies did "freely sacrifice much in a common effort" is a question that the record in Korea answers.

America, together with the South Korean government, supplied nearly all the man-power and war-making supplies while the Allies insisted on dictating to the American commander-in-chief, Gen. MacArthur, that he must not use maximum military power to defeat the enemy.

BUT WHEN the term "satellites" is used along with "allies," it may well be asked why the United States has dictated to and indeed is getting ready to "coerce" an ally and make of the South Korean regime a "satellite" just because the European Allies demand that this be done.

There is no secret about the viewpoint of the London government toward the government of Syngman Rhee.

Now that Secretary Dulles has declared publicly that what the Allies say is to be American policy, notwithstanding our fundamental objections heretofore, it may be taken for granted that the road to appeasement has been opened and that South Korea is to be sacrificed, after all.

It means that, despite the casualties incurred by 140,000 Americans, the original objective of repelling aggression is not to be achieved.

THE CHINESE Communists, who were not in Korea before the aggression started, are still there and will remain there because the Allies are willing to accept Red China into the United Nations.

America now says, in effect, that it must agree to whatever Great Britain and the other countries want or lose military bases they give us in Europe.

Hence American taxpayers are to be asked to continue to pay huge sums to European countries as a means of influencing those bases abroad.

Such military cooperation should be given to American air forces without strings or concessions or bribes if it aids the defense of the European countries themselves.

To confess openly American subservience to its European Allies and to disregard the moral principle on which the American case rests is not the way to preserve American leadership or to maintain the self-respect of the United States in the world.

Fill 'Er Up Again

By TRUMAN TWILL

One of the 1954 dream boats which will have potential buyers drooling with desire in the near future runs up a quarter of a thousand horsepower on a few seconds' notice.

The idea isn't to make this particular automobile faster but to make it more responsive to acceleration. The engineers are doing with horsepower what they formerly did on the family car at our house with a passing gear, whatever that is.

Whatever it is, it takes the pressure off so-so drivers like this one when the time comes to pick 'em up and lay 'em down while getting around another car

These new wrinkles in automobiling make you wonder what's coming next. The safest guess is that no one knows; that the answer will be provided by buyers' choices in a free market.

But there are straws in the wind worth keeping an eye on, because if they keep blowing in the same direction they will lead to some new thrills in the automobile age.

One of these is the idea that more families of moderate circumstances should be owning two cars as suburban living and dependence on automotive transportation put more members of the families on wheels.

Another is the idea that the dual purpose of millions of automobiles which are used for passengers and light hauling should be satisfied by dual-purpose design. It is increasingly common these days for people who own one car to choose one that satisfies both purposes.

Mechanically, everything worth doing seems to have been done. A modern car in good repair virtually drives itself. It might be a good idea to stabilize the mechanical end of the automotive miracle long enough to let the mechanics catch up to what the engineers have been doing in the last decade.

Safety-wise, there still is much to be done, starting with such simple measures as seat belts for passengers similar to those which airplane passengers use as a matter of course.

A real hard look into the future suggests that what may be coming next is a way to keep the automotive product distributed equitably where it's needed. This is being done now with the used-car market, which filters the product downward through the hands of succesive owners until it finally has no use left in it and is consigned to the scrap baler.

As long as the arrangement works, there will be no need to tinker with it. But if it falters someone will come up with modifications that will make it work better.

In the not-too-distant future it may be feasible for a family to satisfy its automobile needs by paying a flat sum each month for the service it is willing to afford. It would get a specified number of hours of transportation of specified design and quality, with no worries about trade-ins, butter-fingered repairmen etc.

It hasn't been a half century since the idea of scooting about in automobiles first took hold. Anyone who thinks there is nothing remaining to be done is as muddleheaded as one who didn't think the automobile was here to stay when adveneurous souls in high-wheeled Ramblers began to scare the horses in World War I days.

He Won't Find It There

Reynaud Real Power Behind Laniel

By Gault MacGowan

PARIS.

Early every day 75-year-old Paul Reynaud—the man who saved Premier Joseph Laniel's government from defeat last Friday night—was exercising in his private gymnasium at his country home near Fontainebleau to keep himself fit for the coming fight to save his dream of a United States of Europe from political disintegration.

Some fast talking in the lobbies of the National Assembly by the athletic, pint-sized vice premier and his friends, won a mandate to send Premier Laniel to Bermuda by the slender margin of 31 votes, but it insures that the Laniel government will be in office for the election of the Senate and House of Deputies of the nation's next president on December 17.

WITH 100 antagonistic deputies talked into abstaining from upsetting the applecart till after Christmas, Reynaud thinks he can repeat his diplomacy to maintain his friend and former assistant minister, Laniel, in office until the European army project is up for ratification in February, and the Russian conversations ended.

Cynics are betting that he won't succeed but Reynaud's slogan is "never say die." He was premier of France when the Nazis moved in, and he went to jail rather than collaborate.

Despite wartime privations, his personal fitness exercises have kept him the "youngest of the oldest' among the politicians in the ministerial merry-go-round.

Four times since World War II he has been asked by the president to become premier and form a government of his own.

THREE TIMES he refused because he believes he can operate better behind the scenes than on the stage. He is too pro-American to please everybody.

Reasons: Average citizens resent his oratorical belligerence because when he urged a fight on the Loire with the Germans, the blitzkriegers were a ready on the Seine and in Paris, and his government had moved out to Bordeaux.

All those who thought it wisdom to collaborate with Petain, resent Reynaud because he didn't. The Gaullists don't like him because he did not go with them to London, but stayed with his people. Socialists don't like him because he is a hard-boiled individualist and conservative. Communists sneer that the Laniel government is just a front for Reynaud. Independents respect him and his fight for Europe.

THE FOURTH TIME he was invited to be premier was last summer. Then tired of saying no, he accepted and went before the deputies with a program that demanded reform of the constitution to insure a government at least 18 months in office

He got a maority but confirmed merry-go-round addicts abstained from voting, so it was not the absolute majority needed to change the system. "I told you they wouldn't have me," he said to President Auriol, "I am too tough for them." He nominated Laniel to succeed himself.

Reynaud's toughness with deputies then, prepared the ground for Laniel. He was elected premier and invited Reynaud to be his foreign minister.

"I would wreck your government in a week were I foreign minister," he told Laniel, "I will help you, but only if you find me a spot where I don't have to talk."

LANIEL MADE HIM vice premier, a post almost as colorless as that of vice president of the United States. There, uncalled upon to fight, he acted as adviser and strategic counsel to Laniel ever since.

Like President Eisenhower and Sir Winston Churchill—his friends—Reynaud will fight when he must, but plans mental blueprints for the future when he is not called into action. He is regarded as a man for an emergency.

The crisis that Laniel faced on Friday night was Reynaud's cue. Defeat would have meant no Bermuda conference and joy in Moscow. Had Laniel been defeated, it would have been next to impossible to agree on a new government in time for Bermuda.

So the little man, with his punch-ball exercises and his collector's love for fragile porcelain, went smiling, urbane and confident to persuade discontented politicians to save the face of France and remain solid with the Allies. "And if you can't agree to that," he told them, "it's better to remain silent. If you want to make a deal with Russia we must be represented in Bermuda. In times of danger, France must show a united front. Let Laniel ride till the talks with Moscow are over."

That's Reynaud at 75. Speaking his mind in persuasive arguments and exercising in private to relieve his reflexes.

CROSSTOWN By Roland Coe

"The way I play anything that touches the TREE counts."

From Our Readers

To The Star:

There are many types of physical afflictions which a person might have. A person might lose an arm or leg. In many of these cases a competent surgeon may be able to supply an artificial arm or leg, which may be used to great advantage by the patient. You might lose your hearing. If so, 9 out of 10 times, a hearing aid may restore sound to the victim.

If there is a loss of hair, a wig may restore a person to looking like his normal self. Yes, there are many kinds of afflictions which may befall a person. But, it seems to me, that the worst thing which could happen to anyone, is to be completely blind, particularly if you have ever once possessed normal vision. In the case of a cataract or some other forms of disease of the eyes, a cure may be effected by modern surgery. But in many cases, there is no known cure.

A number of years ago, my own mother went blind in less than a year's time, due to cataracts. At the time when she was almost completely blind, we went up to Lake Erie to see some friends. They had a young lady visiting them who was completely blind. As we started to walk toward the beach, where a steep set of steps led down to the water's edge, this young lady took hold of my mother's arm, and said, "Let me show you the way." Hard as it is to believe, many persons who have lost their sight are cheerful and happy and find great joy in being able to do things to help others.

One of these persons of whom I speak is Otis Scott, the masseur at our local YMCA. He was very athletic and possessed clear vision up to the time he entered the United States Army. When he returned from duty abroad in World War II, he had been hit in the eyes with shrapnel, and was fast losing what little sight remained.

Today, he is completely blind. But this did absolutely nothing to handicap him in his work or performing services to aid other people. In an almost uncanny manner he is able to find his way about with only the aid of a cane. True, once in a while he will bump into something, but he soon finds his correct course and is on his way, without any help whatsoever. He seems completely happy and retains a grand sense of humor. He whistles and sings at his work and is an asset to any community.

I tell you he has given me a great deal of courage and has shown me that no matter what type of physical affliction you possess, it is never so bad but what it could be a lot worse.

"Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace."—Luke 2:14. Christ taught that they who would be first among men must serve all men. Tyrants who seek world empire have a contrary idea. They want to enslave. Any one can serve gloriously. God does promote men who serve.

Look not mournfully to the past—it comes not back again; wisely improve the present—it is thine; go forth to meet the shadowy future without fear, and with a manly heart.—Longfellow

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Dragnet Divorce Script

("Mrs. Jack Webb, wife of Dragnet star, getting a divorce, says husband kept tuned in on TV and ignored her most of time."—News Item.)

Voice—The scene was familiar. . . Common to many homes. . . A video set . . . Two people. . . . Silence. . . Then I noticed the figure opposite me . . It was a woman. . . She was glaring at me. . . She didn't seem happy. . This puzled me . . How could anybody be unhappy with the TV turned on

Then she spoke:

"Every night you turn the video on."

"That's the only way I can get it to work."

"You keep it going all the time."

"You're wrong. I skip panels and quiz programs."

"You never say a word to me."

"I've been speaking to you for the last five minutes."

"I thought it was the commercial."

(I could see this was going to be a difficult case. Who was this woman? The time had come to get to the bottom of this.)

"What's your name?"

"Webb."

"Come clean. Webb's my name. How can it be your name?"

"I'm your wife! Mrs. Webb."

(Now we were getting some place. I checked with my records. She checked with hers. We both had 'em. . . marriage certificates! The situation called for candor.)

"Even when we have company you just sit in front of the TV set and ignore everybody."

"If the program is good how do I know if I have company?"

"At the breakfast table every morning you read the TV columns and ignore me. I might as well not be in the room."

(I checked on that statement. She was right. There was something about the woman that interested me. I decided to question her further.)

"You're stalling. Let's have more details."

"Turn off the video. I'll talk straight, but you've gotta pay attention."

(I turned it off. I could afford to. There was nothing on but a presidential speech, a reply by Truman, some comment by Adlai Stevenson and a rerun of the Macy Parade.)

"Go on! I want the facts. What's biting you?"

"A wife wants affection. . . she craves devotion. A woman demands love. She wants to be talked to. . ."

"Yes, but. . ."

"She has to have attention, bright conversation, gay company, dinner parties, kind words, compliments, flattery, the sentimental touch. You're dull, indifferent, self-centered, cold, absorbed only in your own work. I'm divorcing you. I'm fed up, disgusted, finished!"

(I saw what I was up against. She wouldn't talk! Then there was a piercing scream. I checked. It was ME! She wanted a $500,000 settlement! Dah-dah-tee-dum. Bahh-h-h-h!)

"WILL SWOP hunting gun for used typewriter." —Ad in Yankee Magazine. Ducks won't come any closer to a typewriter, either, my good fellow.

Rebuke to a nodding nightclubber: "You're sleep is showing.

We hope the department store Santas this season will look a little less like foreign agents in disguise.

New York's subway trains are to be fewer. . . You may now have to wait 5 minutes to read a newspaper standing up.

Somehow Bermuda suggests: "Tennis, anyone?" rather than "Let's sit down and work out a plan for world peace."

News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO — It was Friday, Dec. 3, 1943.

The London Star said a Roosevelt - Stalin-Churchill conference in the Middle East had drawn up a final "give in or die" ultimatum to Germany.

The first step was taken toward sale of control of the Marion-Reserve Power Co. to the Ohio Public Service Co. of Cleveland. Your Dog Moody?

Neurotic People Drive Pets Crazy Too

NEW YORK (AP)—Does your dog brood? Well, stop him. That way lies madness.

Civilized dogs and cats are getting more neurotic all the time. The main trouble? It's people. Modern people not only drive each other batty. They do the same thing to their pets.

"People drive 50 per cent of their pets neurotic by lack of understanding," said William Hall, a former management engineer turned animal psychologist.

His conclusions on the mental relationship between pets and people are based on the study of thousands of animals in his laboratory at Coral Gables, Fla.

"Any pet reflects its home," he said. "We can take a dog in our laboratory and quickly tell, in part simply by the way it wags its tail, the general mental health of its owners. We can even tell whether the husband or wife is dominant in the home—and how dominant."

A frustrated animal, Hall has found, usually is the product of frustrated people. He feels the frustration in both the pet and its owner stems from the same cause—an ego-deflating boredom that arises from a feeling of lack of accomplishment.

"We are all extroverts—we like to feel we are doing something worthwhile," he said. "A busy person rarely gets in trouble — and neither does a busy animal.

"A civilized pet has too much leisure, too much time to brood. It has surplus energy it must get rid of somehow. So, unless its owner understands this and gives it something to do that satisfies it, it becomes neurotic, bites people, chews up rugs or tears up the furniture."

Fortunately, the average dog, cat or parakeet doesn't have to write a novel, climb Mt. Everest or get elected to public office in order to gain a feeling of victory out of life.

"The right kind of toy will stimulate and satisfy him," Hall said. "But the big mistake pet owners make is to pick out a toy that pleases them more than it does their pet—an error parents also often make in selecting toys for their children."

"A toy should satisfy a pet's extrovert needs. A parakeet, for example, is very vain. A mirror makes a nice toy for him, because he is happy to perch before it and admire his own reflection for hours."

Hall found that dogs like toys that make a noise or have a taste, such as slippers with a built-in crackle when chewed, a rubber cat's head with a bell inside, a rubber bone impregnated with chocolate.

"For some reason well fed dogs, like women, prefer a chocolate flavor," Hall said. On the other hand cats, unlike women, go wild, simply wild, over anything with catnip in it.

"We haven't been able to find any flavor cats like better than catnip itself," Hall said. "It seems to act on them like reefer cigarettes do on humans. They go crazy over it."

But his advice is—if you want to be a real Santa Claus to your pet—to take it to the pet store and let it sniff out its own Christmas present.

"Let it pick out its own toys, as if it were a child," he said, "and it won't get bored, frustrated or neurotic."

Could even save you money. It costs real dough today to send your dog to a canine psychiatrist and have him listen to it bark out its mental problems.

RINGSIDE SEAT AT A TWO-BUCK FIGHT. This pair of buck deer, horns locked in combat, staged such a hot fight that they melted their way through the ice on Minnesota's Snake River, near Alvarado. The bucks took to the ice to escape hunters who found them after an apparent all-night battle. Still atop the ice in upper picture, the bucks soon break through and stagger ashore where the hunters managed to untangle them. The battlers then took off into the woods to lick their wounds. Joe Dudinsky, one of the hunters, made the photos.

Flute Player Fired For His Sour Notes Asks Musical Duel

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A flute player dishonorably discharged from the Mexican army on charges of playing sour notes at the Falcon Dam dedication has challenged his accuser to a musical duel—flute versus a trombone.

Sgt. Silvestre Mayorga was ousted in disgrace for what his superior called playing false notes in a rendition of the national anthem in the presence of Presidents Eisenhower and Ruiz Cortines. Mayorga appealed.

At a hearing yesterday he said he played for 15 years with symphonic orchestras and the ballet and with the orchestra at the Palace of Fine Arts.

Trombone player Amador Perez, director of the army band, had little training by comparison, Mayorga said, and knew little or nothing about flutes.

Furthermore, Mayorga said, he would be happy to meet Perez on the field of honor and let experts decide whether he could tweedle the flute better than Perez could woof with the trombone.

Recording Speedometers Proposed in Colorado

DENVER (AP)—Gov. Dan Thornton has been asked to have the Colorado Legislature consider next January a proposal that all automobile owners be required to install recording speedometers. These would make a permanent record of the speeds traveled.

Periodic inspections would be made by the state. If the speedometers showed any speed in excess of the legal limit, the motorists would be fined.

N.Y. Publishers Reject Offer By Engravers

Newspaper Strike Goes Into 6th Day; New Talks Scheduled

NEW YORK (AP)—Publishers have turned down a photoengravers union proposal cutting demands about half, a federal mediator announced, and the city's newspaper strike today went into its sixth day.

Prior to the newspapers' action, a union membership meeting had rejected a proposal by the publishers for arbitration of four deadlocked issues, including wages and hours.

Negotiations were recessed shortly before midnight. They will be resumed late today.

"No progress was made tonight," Federal Mediator Frank H. Brown said.

Brown said representatives of the six struck newspapers turned down a proposal by Local 1 of the AFL International Photoengravers Union for a package increase of $7.50 a week. He added that the newspapers, represented by the Publishers Assn. of New York City made no new proposal.

William Mapel, president of the publishers group, told newsmen that "we've made our offer." By this he meant a package of $3.75, which the publishers had offered before the strike of 400 photoengravers started last Saturday.

The strike has left New Yorkers without a major city newspaper for the first time. A total circulation of almost 5½ million has been cut off.

The Herald Tribune suspended publication Monday night in sympathy with the other publishers. It was not struck because its photoengraving is done by a commercial company.

Lack of newspaper advertising has caused department store Christmas shopping to fall off.

Pay was stopped last night for most of the 20,000-odd employes of the six struck newspapers whose action in honoring the photoengravers' picket lines forced the papers to close.

The Herald Tribune, which has kept its employes going through the motions of putting editions together, is continuing regular pay.

Struck papers are the Times, Daily News, Daily Mirror, World-Telegram and The Sun, Journal-American and Post.

They could have continued publication without their photoengravers, who make metal plates for reproduction of pictures and illustrations, but refusal of members of mechanical, craft and editorial-business office unions to cross picket lines forced closing.

The publishers issued a statement last night that nonstriking employes, most of whom belong to unions, were dropped from the payroll until they return to work.

Bucyrus Photographer Leaves for Everglades

Last year he took extensive color movies of the Florida Everglades, which he crossed in a swamp buggy. Two years ago, he went to Europe and Africa, where he participated in a big game hunting safari.

Accompanying him to Florida will be his mother, Mrs. Kathryn Reinhardt, a brother, Arthur, and Miss Minnie Scheib, all of Bucyrus.

Forest Man Is Elected by Ohio Farm Bureau

H. D. Heckathorn Is New Vice President of State Federation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Farm Bureau Federation favors continued government price supports of 90 per cent of parity—but only temporary and only on basic crops already supported.

A vote of nearly 3-1 passed a resolution so stating as the federation ended its three-day annual meeting here yesterday.

The farmers also insisted diverted acreage—land the government tells the farmer he can't plant in price supported crops—be used only for grazing and soil building.

The federation said farmers must move gradually away from high, rigid price supports because they tend to price farmers out of world markets "and make inefficient use of our agricultural resources."

Diverted acreage could be extended to planting of non-supported crops, the group said, possibly resulting in conditions endangering America's farm program. These conditions, it said, might be the tying up of billions of dollars in basic commodity surpluses as well as accumulation of non-supported commodities.

The federation also passed a resolution opposing extension of social security to farmers and favoring:

Complete rural mail delivery to every farm home; immediate United States participation in construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway; construction of Hell's Canyon Dam on the Snake River for low cost electric power and phosphate fertilizer.

Tightening of the Ohio strip-mining act; creation of a state emergency fund to meet cattle disease outbreaks; a $60 annual tax on house trailers, and federal and state financial aid to the southern Ohio atomic area.

The group elected H. D. Heckathorn of Forest vice president to succeed Ralph H. Varian of East Canton, and renamed all other officers including President Everett F. Rittenour of Piketon.

Xenia Sheriff Says Man Confesses He Set Fire to Barn

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — Sheriff Clarence A. Stewart last night said Charles Edwin Smith, 28, confessed he left his Thanksgiving Day dinner and set fire to a big barn on a farm across the road "just for the thrill."

The sheriff said Smith, who lives outside nearby Trebein, stated he returned to his family holiday festivities and waited until volunteer firemen arrived. The 200-foot long barn was destroyed.

Smith had set the barn afire three times previously, Stewart said, but each time firemen had been able to stop it before any serious damage was done.

Smith and his father, Basil Smith, were left in charge of the barn and other property on the adjoining farm by the owner, Mrs. John McCalmont, who moved to Colorado after her husband was killed in a tractor accident last summer.

The sheriff said he would confer with Prosecutor George R. Smith on what charges to file against young Smith.

Russians Bested in Israel

U.S. Battles Communists With Books in Holy Land

By LEONARD WHARTMAN

NEW YORK (ANA) — A little-known skirmish in the East-West cold war has been going on quietly for the last two years in Israel. No one has been killed, although the contest has waxed hot at times. The battle is for the mind of the Israel reading public and the weapons involved are books, magazines, newspapers and records.

The tiff started in 1951 when the Russian ministry of propaganda, cocking an eye at empty Israel bookshelves, decided that here was fertile territory which could be profitably seeded. Israel's critical shortage of foreign exchange made it impossible for her to import books from abroad, and locally printed volumes were being bought up almost as soon as they appeared.

Accordingly, the Soviets embarked on a policy of sending in vast quantities of books which could be paid for in local currency. Israelis awoke to find themselves inundated with Red propaganda, with the stream of Communist reading matter growing greater each month. The imported books ranged over a broad field from astronomy to zoology. Some were in Russian; many were in English. However, they had one thing in common: they were all thickly spiced with Russian dressing. Having no other reading materials at hand, Israelis thronged the stores selling the Russian books and it appeared that the Communists were in a fair way to capture the Israel reading public.

THE SITUATION alarmed both the Israel and the American governments. Israel officials were concerned by the fact that the country was being swamped by a literature which took a dim view of democracy and Zionism. In addition, the Soviets were using the local currency they acquired to pay for the operating expenses of their remarkably large legation. The American government was alarmed at the possibility of losing an ideological war in a critically important part of the world without having even fired a shot.

To meet the challenge — which had arisen in a number of European and Asiatic countries as well —the U. S. government in June, 1952, adopted the Information Media Guaranty Program, which in a nutshell, works as follows:

AMERICAN PUBLISHERS and wholesalers sell their material directly to foreign dealers. After receiving payment from the dealers in foreign currency, the American firms turn the money over to the State Department which pays them in dollars at the prevailing rate of exchange. The State Department in turn uses the acquired currency for expanding the work of its Office of Information in the country where the sales were made.

The effect of the new program in Israel was immediate. American books, newspapers, magazines and records began to pour into the country in such volume as to dwarf the Soviet imports. Israelis, en masse, poured into once empty bookshops buying up virtually everything in sight.

The response has been so overwhelming that in the two and one-half years that the program has been in existence, Israelis have purchased more than $3,000,000 worth of materials, which is more than any other country in the world has bought.

PRIORITY UNDER the program has been given to technical and scientific publications. Most popular of all are the pocket books which appeal to the slender Israel purse. (Many Israelis are at home in English, the language being a required subject in the high schools.) Also popular are American magazines, and when word gets around town that the latest issues have arrived, there is apt to be an immediate run on the bookstores.

The adoption of the program did not carry with it the promise that all types of reading matter would be included. Care is exercised by the Israel and American governments, who carefully screen lists submitted by publishers, to see that only worth-while informational media are approved. "Cheesecake" and pulps are out, as are the recorded moans and sobs of various juke box artists.

The new program is a boon not only for American firms but for Israel publishers as well. Under the terms of the program, paper is being made available for the printing in Israel of Hebrew originals and translations of approved books.

MEANWHILE BUSINESS has fallen off sharply for the Russian-supplied shopkeepers who stare dismally at the crowded stores featuring American books. Now they have another problem. Some time ago the Israel government served notice that proceeds from the sale of Russian books could not be used for paying the expenses of the Soviet legation and warned that if the practice was continued Israel would sharply reduce the number of Soviet books allowed into the country. The Communists, however, persisted, with the result that the Israelis confiscated large stocks of reading material at the Haifa dock and impounded them under guard. Most of the books are still there, slowly rotting away.

The Russians are understandably unhappy at the unexpected turn of events. And little by little the U. S. Information Media Guaranty Program is inexorably driving the Soviet propaganda machine in the Holy Land further and further into the red.

Defendant Admits 1939 Killing in Warren Trial

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Thomas Mango admitted yesterday in his murder trial he shot and killed Marty Flask back in 1939—but said he shot only after Flask came toward him menacingly.

Mango, who was picked up in Boston earlier this year, said he fled from nearby Niles after the shooting because he was afraid of being "bumped off." He said he had a third interest in slot machines operating in 1939 at Niles and a 15 per cent interest in gambling.

Jurymen are expected to get the case tomorrow.

Indians Seek To Pay Fines With 'Buttons'

DELTA, Colo. (AP)—Police Judge N. E. Darrow returned 29 "buttons" with which three Indians had attempted to pay drunkenness fines yesterday. The buttons came off their wives' clothing.

They were silver dollars defaced by copper loops welded to them. A bank refused to accept them.

The judge suspended the $29 in fines.

AIRLINE STRIKE THREATENED

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. (AP)—Thomas H. Davis, president of Piedmont Airlines, said last night a threatened pilots' strike for Dec. 12 will not stop the airlines operations. Davis said replacements would fly the planes which serve 34 cities and towns in Ohio, West Virginia, North and South Carolina, Kentucky, Virginia and Tennessee.

Delaware Girl Badly Burned In Home Blaze

Helen Green Listed In Critical Condition At Jane Case Hospital

Special to The Star

DELAWARE — The condition of a 16-year-old high school girl, badly burned in a blaze at her home here, remained "critical" today.

Helen Green, daughter of Mr and Mrs. James Green of Delaware, was severely burned over about 75 per cent of her body Tuesday night when fire broke out in the kitchen of her home. Also in Jane M. Case Hospital here is Mrs. Minnie Madison, a cousin of the young girl's mother, who suffered shock as a result of the fire.

Mother's Finger Cut

The girl's parents escaped from the house without burns, however, Mrs. Green suffered a severed ligament of a finger on her right hand when she crashed through the glass of the front door. Her husband received minor cuts in the same manner.

The fire in the kitchen started when a sheet, which hung on a line before an open gas oven ignited. Flames shot upward to the board ceiling, walls and floor of the room. Firemen brought it under control before it burned through to the roof.

A city policeman arrived at the house just ahead of the fire department and found the teenage girl lying unconscious on the living room floor. She was carried to the police cruiser and rushed to the hospital.

Rescued by Firemen

Mrs. Madison was rescued by a city fireman who found her crouching between a settee and a table, attempting to pull a small cash box from underneath a piece of furniture. She was unhurt, but in a hysterical condition.

Mrs. Green, the young girl's mother, told firemen that the girl was in her upstairs bedroom when the fire broke out. She said the front door was locked and the key was missing so she told her daughter to go back upstairs and crawl out through a bedroom window. Fire Chief Jerome Pliickebaum said that the girl either became confused and ran into the kitchen or attempted to fight the fire. Firemen said they found a faucet running in the kitchen sink and a basin lying nearby on the floor as though someone had attempted to extinguish the flames.

The fire chief said he found the dining room door unlocked and that the family could have escaped through it without any danger.

present herself to White for an interview.

However, word was not relayed back to White in time and when the Communist secretary applied to him, he was not aware of her identity and did not hire her. When he learned of this, we had to start over again.

This time, White was told who the girl was. When she applied the second time, all persons concerned had been alerted. White hired her immediately and a valuable outlet to the espionage ring was installed in his office.

AS THE DISCLOSURES of Communist espionage infiltration of our high government offices continue to unfold in the nation's headlines, as the names that I once knew as well as my own continue to be dredged from the insidious network of intrigue, let no one be lulled into a false sense of security.

Exposure now does not mean final safety for the nation.

It is wishful thinking to believe that the Communist secret police will now call a halt to the activities that have stolen for them some of the country's most vital secrets. America must never lose sight of the basic fact that the goal of the Communist master plan is conquest of the world.

The Communists will not and cannot abandon the espionage arms of their global struggle because some of its activities have been exposed and documented. What these developments mean for them is that henceforth their methods will have to be even more clever, less obvious, more foolproof.

They will continue to ensnare, seduce and impress agents for their spying. This is fact. Any other hope is delusion.

My first Soviet superior when I began my assignment as courier for the Washington spy rings was Jacob Golos. Him I knew best of all. He belonged to what I would call the "old school" of espionage chiefs, which operated on the theory that its agents were people dedicated to certain beliefs which alone were sufficient motivation for their acts.

BUT WHEN I was assigned to the Soviet superiors who succeeded Golos, I collided with a "new school" of spy chiefs. These were men who treated the American agents with contempt and arrogance. They were the men who sought to enmesh the agents and the spy groups they controlled with rewards of money, gifts, high living and Soviet honors.

I recall how forcibly this was brought home to me when I was taken over by the last Soviet representative with whom I was in contact before I broke loose from the ties that held me to the conspiracy. I had known him only by his code name, "Al."

Only later, much later, did I discover that he was Anatol Gromov, first secretary of the Russian embassy, who, according to the findings of the FBI, had been sent to the U. S. as the successor in Russian secret police activities here to Vassili Zubilin. Zubilin, former second secretary of the Sovet Embassy, was recalled to Moscow in July, 1944.

"Al" importuned me endlessly to accept money for my courier work. The very thought revolted me. I had joined the Communist party on ideological grounds. I had undertaken my espionage ring assignment under Golos as part of a dedicated service to what I thought was a noble sacrifice for Communist ideals.

HOWEVER, AT the time I had already told my story to the FBI and, acting on their instructions, I accepted the $2,000 "Al" pressed on me. As soon as I could, I turned the money over to the FBI agent who counted the money before stowing it away in an envelope.

The Russians must be well heeled to pass it out as casually as this," he said wonderingly.

Another time, when I was dining with "Al" in Washington he suddenly sat erect, assumed his most official manner and solemnly announced that he was about to present me with a high honor. The Supreme President of the Soviet Union, he said, had awarded me one of its highest decorations, the Order of the Red Star.

It is difficult for me to express the revulsion I felt at the announcement. I had already been shaken by grave doubts about the purposes of the Communist movement and the pattern of its purposes was beginning to cut through the ideological miasma in which I had been imprisoned. This obvious attempt to pay off and buy the services I had willingly performed for what I had believed was the "good fight" was horrifying.

But I dared not let "Al" suspect any of this. As quickly as I could, I ended our meeting and fled, wondering desperately if there was a way out. I was to find the way later.

Joint Chiefs of Staff. Hannah added that release of the report implied neither its approval nor acceptance in every respect.

An earlier report submitted by the group, headed by Rear Adm. J. P. Womble Jr., was turned back by Hannah for further study and rewriting The report as issued today, moreover, omitted the committee's specific allocation of blame for many of the weaknesses the group found in the current military morale situation.

It is understood that the report as completed by the group listed the public, the press, Congress and the President's own Bureau of the Budget as being among sources of the difficulties it concluded exist.

any chance for Assembly approval of German rearmament.

These include:

1. British - American agreement to pressure the West Germans into agreeing that the Saar Basin, rich in coal and steel, will remain politically autonomous but linked economically to France. It was German before World War II and the Germans want it back.

2. British and American assurances that they won't pull their troops off the continent and leave the French to face rearmed Germans alone.

3. Continued American help against the Communist-led rebels in Indochina, or Allied diplomatic support for a negotiated settlement with Ho Chi Minh's forces.

4. British - American agreement to Moscow's proposal for a Big Four foreign ministers meeting.

Of these, only the Saar seems a major stumbling block.

Resurgent West Germany so far has given no sign of conceding anything on that question.

Motorist Held After Accident

Police Report Two Mishaps, Patrol One

A Marion man was arrested on charges of driving while intoxicated as a result of one of the three minor accidents in the city and county reported this morning by city police and the Marion post of the state highway patrol.

Police reported two accidents, the patrol one. There were no injuries.

James L. Caudill, 33, of 377 Davids St., was arrested on the intoxication charge after he was involved in an accident on E. Center St. at Harcourt Place at 5:43 p.m. yesterday.

Caudill was pulling away from the curb when he struck a car driven by Edwin Reardon, 48, of 222 Uhler Ave. Both cars were eastbound. Both vehicles received minor damage, Caudill's on the left side and Reardon's on the right front fender.

Caudill pleaded not guilty when he answered the charges in Municipal Court this morning. His hearing was set for Dec. 10.

Police also reported a hit-skip accident at 5:27 yesterday. A car owned by James Mumney, of 161 Garden St., received minor damage to the left rear fender when it was struck by a hit-and-run driver. It was parked at 424 W Church St.

Cars Collide on Route 4

One minor accident in Marion County was reported today by state patrolmen from the Marion post.

Cars driven by Frank C. Moore, 38, of Richwood and John J. Miller, 39, also of Richwood collided at 4 p.m. on State Route 4, about three miles south of the Marion corporation limits.

Patrol reports show Miller tried to pass Moore as both were southbound. As Miller attempted to pass, Moore pulled out to pass a third vehicle. Minor damage was done to both cars as they collided.

The left front fender and both left doors of Moore's car were scratched and dented, while the right front fender and both right doors of Miller's car were damaged.

Moore was issued a citation to appear before Judge W. Dexter Hazen Saturday. He was charged with changing lanes without using caution.

McCarthy

he has been in office," McCarthy said.

"However, errors by Democrats or Republicans are equally bad. One of the reasons that he Democrats were removed from office was their refusal to recognize their own errors. And I feel that if we Republicans do likewise it may be fatal to our great political party and to our country.

Lists Points

"Let me make these points perfectly clear:

"1. It has been suggested by our political enemies that I am challenging President Eisenhower's party leadership. That suggestion is both ridiculous and untrue.

"2. I will give my utmost support to all Republican candidates for the House and Senate next year because it is so important to this nation that Republicans retain control of Congress.

"3. The new administration has already rid itself of 1,456 security risks inherited from the Democrat (sic) administration — practically all of whom were removed because of Communist activities or connections or perversion. This is a fine record and a real contrast to the Communist ridden Truman-Acheson regime.

"4. I believe that the question of communism will be an important issue in 1954, because the facts have proved that the Democrats represent the party of the left, the party which is soft on communism. This will become more and more apparent as the full facts about the Truman cover-up of Communists become known."

Reads Statement

McCarthy read his prepared statement for television and newsreel crews and, at the end, adlibbed a request that all Americans who feel as he does write or wire President Eisenhower of their views.

He said:

"Now I think President Eisenhower is an honorable man. I think he will follow the will of the American people if that will is known to him. I would like to take this opportunity to urge every American who feels as I do about this blood trade with a mortal enemy to write or wire the President of the United States and let him know how they feel so he can be properly guided in this matter."

After McCarthy read his statement, a reporter asked: "Could this be described as a perfumed note to the administration?"

McCarthy replied he had given a written statement and said there would be "no questions and answers today."

McCarthy, in last week's speech, demanded what he called a blockade of Red China, to be accomplished by notifying Britain and other allies that U.S. aid would be cut off unless they stopped all trade with the Chinese Communists. He said policy inaugurated under the Truman administration had been to send "perfumed notes" to the allies.

Speech Brings Reaction

While McCarthy apparently had no such intention, it appeared that he had indirectly brought on a reaction which may strengthen the administration in dealings with its allies.

In the embassies of friendly nations here the unofficial but pervading reaction to the Dulles-Eisenhower counterpunching was one of great satisfaction.

The feeling was general that Eisenhower had improved the climate for his Bermuda talks, beginning Friday, with British Prime Minister Churchill and French Premier Laniel by yesterday's statement.

count a wider range of policy and economic factors, as well as the latest technological developments.

"Therefore, in accordance with our established national policies and commitments, the Joint Chiefs of Staff submitted in October their recommendations for combat forces for fiscal year 1955.

"The forces do not represent any material change from those developed in previously approved plans except, of course, for certain increases we recommend for continental defense.

"Neither do these forces represent a decision to carry on just as before, merely for the sake of resistance to a change. They represent interim levels, pending the formulation and completion of a longer term program which continues under study. They represent a step in what I call our planning for the long term pull, in lieu of a particular year-of-crisis."

Iberia Resident Struck by Auto

Ralph Rusk Suffers Broken Leg and Cuts

An Iberia man was in "fairly good" condition this morning in Galion City Hospital after being struck by an automobile Wednesday afternoon in Iberia.

Ralph Rusk, 72, of Iberia, was taken to the hospital suffering from a fractured lower left leg and lacerations on the back of the head. State patrolmen from the Marion post say he was struck by a car Wednssday at 5:45 p.m. on U. S. Route 30-S in Iberia.

Driver of the car was Edward M. Weithman, 63, of New Washington. Rusk was reported to have been walking east on the north side of the road, and Weithman was driving east.

Patrolmen say Weithman started to pass a truck, and in so doing, struck Rusk who was on the other side of the road. Rusk was taken to Galion City Hospital in a Snyder Funeral Home ambulance.

Weithman was cited to appear before Justice of the Peace R. R. Bennington of Mt. Gilead Saturday. He was charged with passing on a yellow line.

Disintegration

By George Sokolsky

The Republican party, after 20 years out of power, still finds it difficult to develop sufficient political leadership to produce a passable legislative program for Congress and a fighting organization among the people.

SOKOLSKY

The death of Sen. Robert A. Taft left a void that has not yet been filled. President Eisenhower continues to remain aloof from party politics.

The 1954 campaign is already here, but the Republicans are quarreling among themselves because no one exhibits the strength to compose the differences among the various leaders.

The realistic fact is that President Eisenhower does not like being a politician. He has never been a politician.

He has been a brilliant success as a soldier and has achieved distinction as a diplomat, but not as a technical party politician.

NEVERTHELESS, two - party politics is the method by which the United States governs itself. The alternative to our system would be a revolution by which one party or one individual would prevail.

The danger is that unless President Eisenhower assumes the political leadership of the Republican party, it will dissipate itself into a disastrous factionalism.

Even Franklin D. Roosevelt, as astute a politician as history records, could not treat elected officials, senators and representatives, and cabinet members as though they were top sergeants.

He might have fooled them by his brilliant double-talk, he might have cajoled them by patronage but he never ignored them.

I WAS PRESENT at the dinner of the B'nai B'rith in Washington at which the President delivered a speech that could be interpreted as a pleasantry or an attack on Senators McCarthy and Jenner, on his own attorney general, Herbert Brownell Jr., and on the Director of the FBI, J. Edgar Hoover.

It was not a good speech because, on the whole, it was unsuited for the occasion, but it was pleasant in spots.

This was on Monday night. On Tuesday night, Sen. Joe McCarthy hit back with a block - buster that shook and split the Republican party. Obviously, Joe McCarthy accepted Monday night's challenge and got even.

CONSIDERING the mildness of the President's statement on Monday, McCarthy's reply on Tuesday was too strong. Maybe he wanted it that way to bring on a test of strength. The immediate effect is a very split party.

Now, if Eisenhower decides to even the score, the cleavage within the Republican party will continue to widen until, in 1954, the Democrats could win both the House and the Senate.

In some states, such as Massachusetts, McCarthy can win the election for the Republicans or he can bring on a defeat for his own party.

Practical politicians recognize his immense strength. They blame Eisenhower for permitting any individual in his party to grow politically stronger than the President.

Nevertheless, they admit that they have no way of reaching Eisenhower on a political level.

THE DEMOCRATS are not divided on the single point of winning in 1954. Their actual disagreements are deeper than those which exist among Republicans, but they are now united on the question of 1954.

Their quarrels have been postponed until after that date. The Republicans cannot display a similar party discipline.

In the Eisenhower cabinet, only two members understand politics. They are the attorney general, Herbert Brownell Jr., and the postmaster general, Arthur E. Summerfield.

If either of these men were given a free hand to bring the party together, he could do it. But the President seems not to be ready for that.

THE PRESIDENT is a lovable personality. It could be said that he is the most lovable personality that has been in the White House in recent years.

Nobody wants to be against him. Nobody questions his moral stature. But he proved in 1952 that he cannot transfer the affection the people have for him to anyone else: he did not win the Senate or the House.

If, in 1954, he loses even his nominal majority, if the Democrats are able to produce an actual majority in both Houses, his last two years in office will be disastrous. It is not good for the country if the president is of one party and the Congress of another.

Ruling Overturned By High Court in Tuscarawas Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court yesterday reversed findings in favor of a Newcomerstown man by Tuscarawas County courts.

Common Pleas Court had returned a $4,000 judgment in favor of Stratton Zafires in a suit to recover money paid George Peters for a New Philadelphia restaurant. Zafires said Peters lied when he told him he held a four-year lease on the restaurant at 116-8 S. Broadway.

Peters was killed in an accident Nov. 1, 1949, before the trial. His administrator, Gus Peters, was named a party defendent.

An appeals court upheld the Common Pleas Court decision but said Zafires should get only $3,000. The Supreme Court entered final judgment for Peters saying Zafires failed to produce proof of fraud.

Wouldn't Share TV

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—In support of her petition for a divorce decree, Mrs. Gladys L. Myers, 57, complained that her husband Stanley, 53, aircraft plant policeman, watched television by the hour and forced her to stay in the kitchen meanwhile.

The court granted her a decree.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Somewhere in the highest congressional circles a small band of politicos is quietly protecting some of the country's toughest mobs, including those racketeers who have infiltrated labor to use unions as fronts for their own operations.

RIESEL

These congressional circles actually sent word to a House subcommittee investigating Detroit rackets, warning it not to dig too deeply, advising it not to find evidence which could bring anyone into court and bluntly telling it that no indictments should result from the probe.

As a result, the congressional sub - committee, consisting of House Labor members Wint Smith (R-Kan.) and Clare Hoffman (R-Mich.), quit in disgust before they could put vital witnesses on the stand.

THE COMMITTEE counsel, Bill McKenna, resigned and returned to his Los Angeles law practice, which he had temporarily yielded at considerable financial sacrifice. McKenna walked out because he wouldn't take orders "from up above" in Congress.

When Rep. Wint Smith was asked who had hamstrung this sub-committee of the House Labor Committee, he pointed skyward and said that his orders came from politicos as "high as that."

These three men know the name of the congressional power who ordered them to lay off. They know this man and others in Congress were in close touch with the very men the sub-committee was preparing to probe.

Thus the investigators were constantly being defied and were told regularly what were the limits of their power.

BEFORE THESE three men quit Detroit, they said they had been prevented by an eastern governor from coming into his state to follow leads on labor racketeering and harness racing. They were bitter about being kept out of a western state.

They refused to identify by name any of the political leaders to whom they referred.

Out of this may spew a scandal which could shake the nation far more than did the flow of the elite to the special room inside Sing Sing in which federal prisoner, extortionist Joe Fay, held court.

This latest scandal pivots upon information uncovered by this subcommittee when it went into Detroit recently to investigate the professional labor operators (as distinguished from the honest labor movement there) in and around the harness race tracks.

AT THE MOMENT nothing can be done with the data because Congress is not sitting and these congressional probers no longer have the authority to extend their investigation.

However, immediately after Congress swings into session next January, they will press for further probing of the race tracks and their political ties — and if they are suppressed, they can and may well hit the floor of Congress with the entire story.

It now appears that several rackets investigations have been squashed, in the Senate and the House, by a bloc crossing political lines.

This new scandal, if not suppressed, will reveal that President Eisenhower, Attorney General Brownell and some of their staffs have been deceived by this bloc.

RIGHT HERE it is vital to point out that while some of the bloc is bound up with the toughs, other politicos involved simply wanted to protect their friends.

These probes are important to labor as well as to the administration. The faster the mobs are thrown on the defensive, the faster will the national AFL chiefs be able to run them out — as the Federation is attempting to do on the New York waterfront.

These probes are also vital to the opposition Democratic party since some political leaders in both parties are being deceived into being innocent fronts for the mobs and may find their careers ruined unless they discover their inadvertent role in the network.

VIRTUALLY all of them were brought into the picture by that handful of labor leaders who are business operatives using their locals to give them influence and power and proletarian standing as "crusaders".

Only President Eisenhower and Herbert Brownell can smash the congressional protection ring.

They can get the facts from Reps. Hoffman or Smith or their ex-counsel, McKenna.

Otherwise we've developed still another invisible government by infiltration.

Happy Pounding

By Laura Hobson

"Mr. and Mrs. Fixit" is fast becoming our national nickname, judging from a bunch of surveys that reveal our fast-growing passion for tools and paints and repair gadgets of every kind.

HOBSON

One gallon of paint, for instance, out of every four is now sold to an amateur instead of a pro, and when you consider that just ten years ago only one gallon in every ten was sold to a non-professional, you get what I mean by "fast-growing passion."

The same picture holds for wallpapering: 60 per cent of all U.S. home-owners are now slap-slapping up their share of the 200 million rolls of wallpaper sold in a year, whereas before the war only 28 per cent ever tackled the job.

IN THIS spreading American craze for do-it-yourself, eleven million families now have home workshops, and the nice homey sounds of sawing and planing and hammering resound through the land.

What's more, we're showing a good solid pride in the way we do our own fixing-up; being characters who appreciate the lowdown and admire knowhow, we are buying more "how to" books than ever before in our history.

The Pocket Household Encyclopedia, at 35 cents, printed a first edition this fall of 250,000 copies which is selling like the proverbial hot cakes, and the "Handyman's Book," prepared by "Better Homes and Gardens" has sold more than half a million copies —at $3.95 per handyman.

WHICH VULGAR mention of money leads me straight to a fascinating little sidelight on Mr. and Mrs. Fixit, American 1953 vintage. In our new hobby, we are not penny-pinchers, and our main motive is something far deeper than the dollar sign.

A feature article in "Stores" says, "Anyone watching the do-it-yourself customer . . . is inclined to consider economy the excuse rather than the reason for feverish activities.

He attacks the job in true hobbyist fashion, with enough tools and gadgets to make the work fun—and to make the cost. . . much higher than it really has to be."

TO MANY of us this will at once bring the painful thrill of recognition, and as for me, I'd hate to total up the amount of cash my family throws around on household glue and lamp-repair kits and varnish removers and brads and tacks and 107 other assorted fix-its every year.

But since cost-cutting doesn't seem to be the universal dynamo that drives most of us to our home-repair sprees, maybe the other motives uncovered by the various surveys better be looked at with the light of honest inquiry burning high.

These others include nice sensible ones like scarcity of labor which makes us sick of waiting around, experience with tools gained in the Armed Services, and the increased interest we seem to be showing in home life.

BUT THE ONE that struck me the hardest was the suggestion that "working with one's hands has a therapeutic effect on nerves jangled by conditions in this troubled world."

Brother, that rings a bell. So clear a bell that I sometimes wonder whether a new theme song to match our new nickname oughtn't be a new ditty called, "I have nerves that jingle-jangle-jingle."

Anyway, Mr. and Mrs. Fixit, are happy hammering.

Reservations for the annual Marion County Dairy banquet meeting must be in the Agricultural Extension office no later than Saturday, Ellwood Parrott announced today. The banquet and meeting will be held Thursday at 7 p.m. at the New Bloomington High School.

Can Production Hurt by Strike

Fear Shortage After Big Companies Close

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A can shortage faced the citrus industry today as the result of a strike against the nation's two largest can manufacturers. No settlement is in sight.

The strike by the CIO United Steelworkers at 73 plants of American Can Co. and Continental Can Co. in the United States and Canada has almost throttled production.

Citrus canners in Florida, where operations are at their peak, have expressed the most concern. Some say their stocks of cans will run out in a matter of days.

And one canner predicted the state's citrus industry will face "one of the most serious crises in its history" if the strike is prolonged.

Tips on How To Avoid Fire

Safety Group Lists Hints for Holidays

First among the safety rules was released today by the Fire Prevention Committee of the Marion Chamber of Commerce. The suggestions were made for both private homes and stores.

First among the safey rules was that persons should buy recently cut Christmas trees if possible. They are advised to cut off at least one inch of the trunk above the original cut.

IF THE TREE is not used immediately, it should be kept standing in a pail of water in some cool place. When used, the Christmas tree should be placed in a container of water during the entire time it is kept in the house.

The tree should not be placed in a location where it is blocking or obstructing any available exit. Only safe electrical illumination should be used for decoration. Light bulbs should be kept from making contact with any combustible material.

In addition, a fire extinguisher should be kept in a nearby location. After Christmas, the tree should be destroyed before it becomes dry.

OTHER SUGGESTIONS included one dealing with Christmas wrappings. The committee urged that wrappings be stored or destroyed immediately after packages have been opened. This would prevent the likelihood of fire.

All combustible materials should be kept away from candles, fireplaces, and stoves.

In the commercial field, merchants are warned against using faulty electrical wiring and fixtures in their display windows. Smoking bans are urged in stores and places of public assembly.

OTHER HINTS for the holiday emphasize the fact that combustible materials should be kept away from fire. Use of non-burnable tree decorations was also urged. Electric trains should not be located near the base of the tree. All open fireplaces should be screened.

Regular candles should be used with caution. They should never be placed on the tree. If used on a mantel or table, they should be placed in a steady, safe holder, away from curtains and drapes.

A solution of seven ounces of Borax, three ounces of boric acid, and two quarts of hot water can be sprayed on costumes, decorations, and scenery to fireproof the materials, the committee said. The spray should be repeated after laundering the goods.

The final tip was for all persons at all times: in case of fire call the fire department at once.

Kline's Store Employes Hold Christmas Party

Annual Christmas party for employes of the Kline's Deparment Store was held last night in the Moose Hall.

Approximately 35 attended the dinner party. Santa Claus later distributed gifts to the group and an award consisting of a letter from the New York office and a check was presented to Miss Blanche Mills for her outstanding sales job over the past year.

The hall was decorated in Christmas fashion. The playing of games ended the party. Hyman Shapiro, manager of the Kline's store, acted as master of ceremonies.

Wrong Red Light

CHANDLER, Okla. (AP) — Policeman Hank Albritton promptly arrested a motorist for drunkenness when the driver, holding up traffic for blocks, demanded indignantly, "When's that light going to change?"

The Red light he was referring to was part of downtown Chandler's new Christmas decorations.

REVISED HISTORY OUT

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio State Archaeological and Historical Society has published a sesquicentennial year revised edition of its book, "A History of Ohio." The earlier edition was published 19 years ago. Co-authors are two Ohio State University history professors, Dr. Eugene H. Rosenboom and Dr. Francis P. Weisenburger.

Tornado Kills 6 in Louisiana

Three-County Area Ravaged by Twister

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP) — State Police reported today a tornado slashed across central Louisiana in a northeasterly direction, killing at least six persons.

The State Police said four died when the twister hit the town of Leander in Vernon Parish and two more were killed in Tullos in LaSalle Parish.

Reports said the twister also struck at Hineston and Dry Prong in Rapides Parish and at other communities, but further details were not immediately available.

Less than 30 minutes before the twister was reported the New Orleans Weather Bureau issued the following weather bulletin:

"There is a possibility of a few small tornadoes in the Natchez-Jackson area of Mississippi this morning, spreading eastward to the Meridian-Laurel area by mid-afternoon."

The Vicksburg Evening Post reported there had been a tornado or a "big wind storm" at Rolling Fork, about 3 miles north of Vicksburg.

Ambulances were requested from Vicksburg and a call to the Rolling Fork, about 30 miles north of they were "too busy to talk."

California Father Gets Sympathetic Answer From Ike

OAKLAND, CAlif. (AP)—A 3-year-old boy drowned in an irrigation canal near here two weeks ago. His was the 33rd drowning in the Contra Costa Canal in 10 years.

So little Joe Anderson's father, Warren, wrote to President Eisenhower:

"I want to build a fence for my boy, Joe There's an unfenced canal that meanders through our country here in California. We live just a few yards from it and it's a danger to our children.

"I can't fence it, nor can any of my neighbors, because it belongs to our government. That's why I'm writing to you . . . the canal is your responsibility, Mr. President."

Anderson said he wanted the fence to prevent other Joes or Davids becoming No. 34 in the canal. The President has a grandson named David.

The canal is part of the Central Valley project of the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation.

Yesterday a relative of Anderson disclosed the President had replied:

"Rarely have I been so touched by any letters as by yours of the 20th. Mrs. Eisenhower and I lost our first—and then only son—when he was 3½ years old. I am keenly aware of the sense of total loss that must engulf you."

The President said he was sending Anderson's letter to the Department of the Interior and "certainly I hope that through some proper way steps can be taken to see that this kind of tragedy is not repeated in the future."

Former Ohioan Held in Killing In Los Angeles

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Officials say a man who denies slaying a Los Angeles insurance adjuster has been named as the killer by his wife and a friend of the victim.

The man, booked as Anthony J. Zilbauer, 53, of Los Angeles, was arrested yesterday when he picked up mail sent here in a police trap. Chief of Detectives James Chapman identified Zilbauer as a man known by Los Angeles police as Anthony Barr.

Barr was sought in the apparently motiveless killing Nov. 21 of Andrew J. Kmiec.

A .38 caliber revolver found in Zilbauer's car here is believed to have been used in the slaying, police said.

In Los Angeles last night, Dis. Atty. S. Ernest Roll said Barr's wife had sworn she knew her husband killed Kmiec. Earlier Mrs. Barr said her husband had no part in the slaying.

Miss Dolly Ann McCormick, a friend of Kmiec who was present at the shooting, identified Zilbauer as the killer from Associated Press wirephotos sent to Los Angeles from St. Louis.

Kmiec had driven with Miss McCormick and the killer, posing as a prospective buyer of Kmiec's car, to a lonely spot. Miss McCormick was quoted by Los Angeles authorities as saying the killer suddenly drew a revolver and killed Kmiec, saying he had been paid to do it.

A warrant has been issued at Whittier, Calif., charging Barr with murdering Kmiec.

Mrs. Barr was booked on suspicion of receiving stolen property.

Barr, an unemployed machinist at the time of the slaying, served terms in Ohio for forgery, armed robbery and as a parole violator.

What has happened to "Maid's night out?"

Some of us old-timers can recall when many families had a maid. Today they are scarce. Thursday was maid's night out, so many families had a scrap supper or dined out. It's a good idea to dine out at least once a week. Why not dine with us? Friendly waiters, a big menu, and everything is reasonably priced.

Mansfield Escapee Will Have Hearing

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — Gary Eugene Gotschall, 19, who was captured Monday night in a field near Bucyrus after he had escaped a few hours earlier from the Mansfield Reformatory, has been removed from the Crawford County jail here to the Richland County jail at Mansfield.

Crawford County Sheriff Elwood F. Jacobs said Gotschall, who was serving a one-to-20-year term for auto theft, will face grand jury action under a new escape law, which, makes Gottschall automatically a second offender and subject to a maximum sentence of an additional five years.

No auto theft charges will be filed by Crawford County authorities, Sheriff Jacobs reported.

ASHLEY SOLDIERS VISIT

ASHLEY—For the first time in three years, two Ashley brothers were able to visit together at their parents' home in Ashley. They are he sons of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Murray Sr. A-1C Willis W. Murray of Forbes Air Base, Topeka, Kansas, and A-1C Ronald J. Willis of Sewart Air Base, Smyrna, Tenn., who visited a week in the home. The boys had visited their parents and sisters several times before, but their leaves never quite coincided, sometimes missing each other by only a day or two.

23 Gas Leaks Found In Lines at Courthouse

Plumbers checking suspected gas leaks in the Marion County Courthouse the last three days have discovered 23 leaks so far, commissioners reported today.

The suspected leakages were brought to the attention of commissioners following a routine check by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. When finding it was necessary to dig a trench in the Courthouse yard facing Center St. in order to get to the service line, commissioners ordered a larger four-inch line be installed.

This larger line would be adequate to handle gas demand if it were found feasible to convert to a gas heating system for the Courthouse at a future date. At present, the only use of gas is for heating water and for heating grates found in most offices in the 67-year-old building.

FBI Hunting 2 Men in Georgia For Kidnaping

22-Year-Old Mother Safe; Released After Bid for Ransom Fails

COLUMBUS, Ga (AP) — Pretty Mrs. Gloria Bullock Weaver, 22, mother of an infant son, is safe at home today and FBI agents are hunting for two men accused of kidnaping her.

Found unharmed on a downtown street near the Chattahoochee River bridge last night, she said she was released by her kidnapers on the Alabama side of the bridge.

Her husband Arthur, a building contractor, spotted her on the Georgia side of the river shortly after she telephoned home from a drugstore near where she was released.

Mrs. Weaver said an unidentified man entered her home in her husband's absence Tuesday night and ordered her to an automobile parked outside. She said he did not use force.

She related that she and the man got into the back seat of the car with another unidentified man at the steering wheel. While one held her arms, the other blindfolded her with her own scarf, she said.

After a long ride, they came to a stop and she was put in a room of a house. The men occupied an adjacent room, she said.

After darkness fell last night, Mrs. Weaver continued, she was blindfolded again and put back into the automobile.

The blindfold was removed when they reached the outskirts of Phenix City, Ala., just across the river from Columbus, and the men let her out with instructions to go home.

Weaver received a telephone call yesterday from an anonymous man who demanded $15,000 for her return. No ransom was paid.

Ohio Probers Seek 39 Cited For Contempt

Nine More Witnesses Refuse To Answer at Hearing in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ohio's Un-American Activities Commission had nine new names from a two-day hearing here to add today to 30 no-answer witnesses in other hearings it has held throughout the state.

Sidney Isaacs, the commission's chief counsel, said the nine who refused to answer questions here would be cited, along with the others, for contempt of the state Legislature.

"The character of the witnesses (in the Cleveland hearings) was enough to stamp them as something apart," said Isaacs. "It was their complete hostility, their sneering, snarling, lip-curling contempt for authority of the state and for government."

The commission returned to Columbus and will have no more hearings on the road. A report will be submitted Jan. 31, the day the commission's life ends, Isaacs said.

The Cleveland school board has asked for a transcript of the testimony of one of yesterday's witnesses, Edward Likover, 37. Likover who teaches science and auto driving at the Cleveland Trade School, took the state-prescribed loyalty oath to get the public school teaching job he may lose as a result of the hearing.

Tangy Cranberry Dishes for Holidays

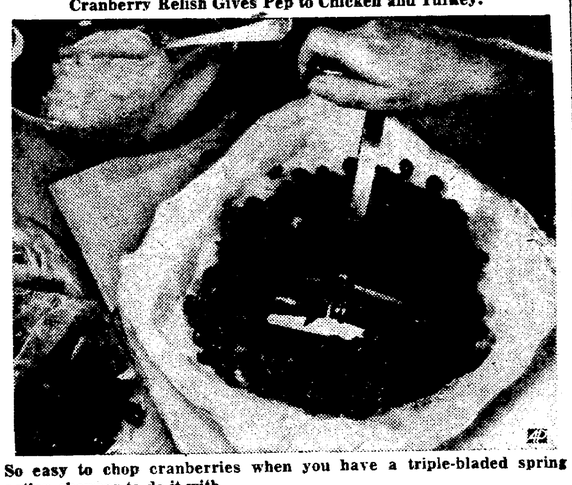
Relish and Sauce Made Flavorful by Adding Fruits to Berries

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

What could be easier? Chop raw cranberries with a triple-bladed spring-action chopper, combine them with other fruits, and you have a wonderful relish to serve with holiday turkey, chicken, duck or ham.

This good raw cranberry relish has an extra advantage — it benefits from being made ahead of time. Put it into a covered container, in the refrigerator, so its flavors will blend and mellow. All the fuss out of the way at serving time, and you have such a delicious accompaniment to ladle into your prettiest dish.

Cranberry Relish Gives Pep to Chicken and Turkey.



So easy to chop cranberries when you have a triple-bladed spring action chopper to do it with.

CRANBERRY PINEAPPLE RELISH

Ingredients: One No. 2 can (1 pound and 4 ounces) crushed pineapple, 2 pounds fresh cranberries, ½ cup sugar.

Method: Drain pineapple and empty into refrigerator dish. Wash and pick over cranberries. Place cranberries on several thicknesses of waxed paper on wooden board. Rumple edges of waxed paper. Chop cranberries with triple-bladed spring-action chopper. Mix with pineapple and sugar. Taste and add more sugar if desired. Chill at least 8 hours.

If you would also like to serve a cooked cranberry sauce, here's one we know everyone will enjoy.

CRANBERRY PINEAPPLE SAUCE

Ingredients: 2 cups sugar, 1 cup water, 4 cups fresh cranberries, ¼ cup pineapple preserves, rind and juice of 2 lemons, 1 cup blanched almonds.

Method: Mix sugar and water in saucepan; stir over low heat until sugar dissolves; boil 5 minutes. Add cranberries; cook rapidly 5 minutes or until cranberry skins pop open. Stir in preserves, lemon rind and juice; chill. Just before serving, stir in almonds.

Teacher Wills $40,000 To 3 Kentutcky Schools

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Miss Sudie Jane Bowman, 94, left $40,000 to help educate children in Kentucky schools. Miss Bowman, who once taught in that state, died Saturday.

Her will left $10,000 for a chapel at the Stuart Robinson School at Blackley, Ky., $20,000 for student loans at that school and at the Highland Institute in the same area, and $10,000 to be loaned to students at Lees Junior College at Jackson, Ky.

Residents Urged To Buy Needed Postage Early

Postmaster Homer D. Cole today advised Marion residents to buy their Christmas postage early.

Although the postoffice will have extra facilities for the sale of postage, the building will still be crowded and there will be long waiting lines during the Christmas rush period, he said.

It will save time and minimize mistakes if people buy their stamps early and put them on their cards at home, Cole said.

House Group Invites Vishinsky To Testify

NEW YORK (AP)—Andrei Vishinsky, Soviet deputy foreign minister has been invited to appear before a House committee and "defend himself" on the issue of Russian seizure of three Baltic nations.

Last Tuesday Alfred Derzins, former Latvian cabinet member, said in Washington that Vishinsky was in charge when Russia took over his country, Lithuania and Estonia.

Derzins told his story to a special House committee headed by Rep. Kersten (R-Wis). The committee was set up to investigate the Soviet seizure of the Baltic nations.

The committee opens public hearings today.

Texas Girl Hoping Champ Steer Will Finance Education

CHICAGO (AP)—A pretty, 18-year-old, hazel-eyed Texas girl hopes to earn her way through college today.

Miss Sue White of Big Spring, Tex., will be shooting for that goal when her white-faced Hereford, Lone Star, the grand champion steer of the International Live-stock Exposition, is put up for auction.

Many exhibitors at North America's largest livestock and grain show predict her 1,015-pound steer will bring a much larger price than the $4.55 a pound paid last year's winner, a shorthorn exhibited by Ohio State University.

WILL HANDLE SALE

SPENCER, W. Va. (AP)—Emerson Marting of Washington Court House, Ohio, has been announced as auctioneer for the sale of the registered Hereford cattle herd of C. C. Dodd of Spencer. The 75 head of Herefords will go on sale Dec. 5.

Why are cakes made with Duncan Hines Mixes so moist, so tender, so much like the finest homemade cakes that experts (and friends) can't tell them apart?

The Answer is Simple!

And that's why—when you use Duncan Hines Cake Mix and your own fresh eggs—you're guaranteed a fresher, bigger cake—better in appearance, freshness and flavor...or your money back."

Charter Sought By New Union At Struck Plant

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A group seeking to replace Local 927, CIO-UAW as bargaining unit at the Columbus North American plant said it planned to file incorporation papers for a new union with the Ohio secretary of state.

Leaders of the new group say many persons applying for membership in their union, which will be called the Independent Aircraft Workers Assn., are former members of Local 927.

North American officials said 2,020 UAW members, 17 per cent of the local's membership, have quit since the union struck for higher pay and other benefits.

Early this week a UAW spokesman called the dissident group a "phone booth" organization trying to stall negotiations between strikers and company.

Robert P. Stith, Franklin County welfare director, said more than 500 striking employes are now drawing welfare checks and estimated the cost of continuing relief at between $15,000 and $20,000 a month if no further applications are received.

North American officials left Los Angeles yesterday for Cincinnati where the National Labor Relations Board is to hear charges today by the union that the Columbus plant engaged in unfair labor practices.

The union lodged complaints that the company photographed pickets. Similar charges brought against officials of the Fresno plant have been dismissed.

Juanta M. Drury, of near Curtis, O., and Mervin Haines, 29, of 538 N. Greenwood St. were cited to appear in Municipal Court Saturday. Both were charged with excessive speed.

Emmett L. Richards, 21, of Melvindale, Mich. posted bond for his appearance before Mayor Harold Koehler of Upper Sandusky next Wednesday. He was charged with excessive speed.

Start the Day With Some Golden French Toast

A good, well balanced breakfast is necessary if you wish to have energy and pep through the day.

For a nutritious morning meal, try French toast with honey butter, juice, pork link sausages and of course, milk.

Honey butter is good on pancakes too.

For a delicious French toast use;

2 eggs
1 cup milk
½ teaspoon salt
2 to 4 tablespoons butter
8 slices day-old bread

Beat eggs slightly; add milk and salt and stir well. Dip bread slices into mixture. Heat a little butter in a skillet; add soaked bread slices and cook until delicate brown on both sides. Add extra butter to skillet, as needed. Serve with honey butter. Serves 4.

To make honey butter blend equal parts of soft butter and honey together. Serve on French toast. Store in refrigerator.

Gas Company Plans Pipeline

New Link With Gulf Area To Benefit Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Construction of an 860-mile pipeline that next fall will mean more heating gas for Ohio homes is on schedule, an Ohio Fuel Gas Co. official said today.

Allan W. Lundstrum, Ohio Fuel president, said 500 miles of line have been laid and foundations have been poured for five big compressor stations along the route between the Louisiana Gulf coast and the Kentucky-West Virginia border.

Deadline for completing the 120 million dollar 30-inch pipeline being built by Gulf Interstate Gas Co. is next November.

The line will deliver up to 375 million cubic feet of natural gas daily to the United Fuel Gas Co. of Charleston, W. Va. From there part of the gas will go to Ohio Fuel through a line directly to Sugar Grove near Lancaster, where Ohio Fuel has its main compressor station.

It is unknown yet how much of the gas will get to Ohio because in Charleston it becomes a part of the pooled supply of the Columbia Gas System. Ohio Fuel is an affiliate of Columbia.

New Method Will Aid Christmas Cooks

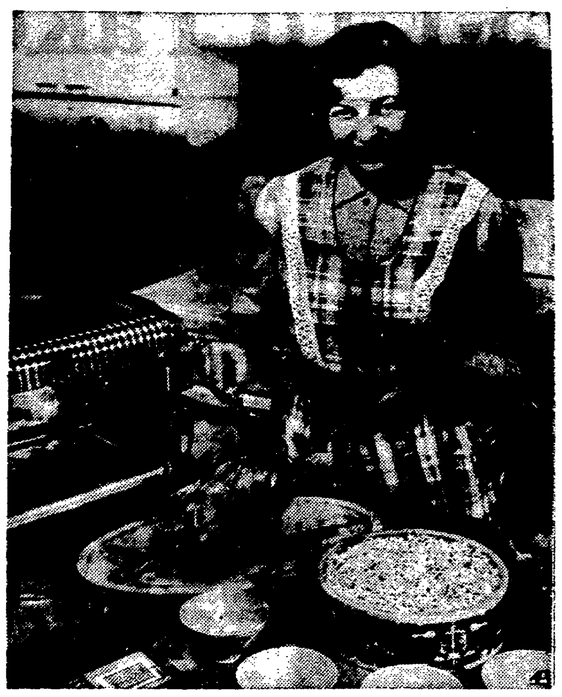
Served With Rice, Roast Chicken and Pineapple Makes Tasty Meal

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

A new kind of cooking is abroad in this land. We want to tell you about it before holidaytime, in case you have any influence with Santa. We're talking about the electric appliance in which you can roast on a spit or quick-broil and achieve the most delicious food in short order.

We've been trying this kind of cookery ourselves and we're all for it. We're enthusiastic, too, about the first book to be devoted to this device the "Complete Cookbook for Infra-Red Broiler and Rotisserie" by Nedda Casson Anders (M. Barrows).

At lunch recently with Mrs. Anders, we told her we had tried her wonderful way of roasting chicken with pineapple and serving it with green rice. When we asked her how she happened on this idea, she said it was inspired by the Chinese food she had eaten, and by her interest in producing a different and delicious chicken dish. With her permission, we are giving you our adaption of her recipe.



NEDDA CASSON ANDERS, author of "Complete Cookbook of Infra-Red Broiler and Rotisserie," cooks her chicken, pineapple and rice dinner inspired by Chinese food.

Mrs. Anders started using a quick-broiler and rotisserie because she's a career-wife who wanted to feed her "semi-gourmet" husband well. She found that when she used the quick-broiling unit of the appliance for meat or fish and vegetables, she could start dinner with her hat on—when she came home from the office; by the time she had her hat off, the meal was done! As accompaniment to such a dinner, she often uses precooked rice.

For dessert, Mrs. Anders says fruit grilled in the electric broiler offers color, texture, pattern, flavor—and a surprise element—that family and guests relish. A chapter in her book gives he favorite ways of preparing the fruit for garnishes as well as desserts.

If you already have one of these infra-red appliances, Mrs. Anders is most persuasive about their use at holiday time. (We agree that junior turkey, chicken, duck and roasts are superlative when they've been spit roasted under this electric heat.) Her eyes sparkle when she tells you about her experimenting, and her book reflects her vivacity and efficiency. She admits, however, that while she did the recipe-testing she never had to do the dishes. Her chemist-husband, pleased with the tasting, willingly undertook that job!

CHINESE PINEAPPLE CHICKEN WITH GREEN RICE

Ingredients: 1 whole chicken (2½ to 3 pounds ready to cook), 1 lemon (cut in quarters), 1 clove garlic (cut in half), 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1-1-3 cups drained canned crushed pineapple, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 1 tablespoon soy sauce, ½ teaspoon powdered ginger (optional), 2 tablespoons butter or margarine (melted), 1-1-3 cups packaged precooked rice, 1½ cups water, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons finely chopped chives (or use scallion tops or parsley), 2 tablespoons butter.

Method: Rub chicken inside and out with the cut lemon and garlic. Springle with 1 teaspoon salt and pepper. Mix pineapple, cornstarch, soy sauce and ginger. Spoon mixture into body cavity of chicken; close body openings tightly, truss bird, and put on spit of electric rotisserie as directed by manufacturer. Brush chicken with 2 tablespoons melted butter and spit roast 50 to 60 minutes, or until done. Chicken will be done when drumsticks are tender. About 15 minutes before chicken is done, combine rice, water and ½ teaspoon salt in saucepan. Mix just until all rice is moistenen. Bring quickly to a boil over high heat, uncovered, fluffing rice gently once or twice with a fork (do not stir). Cover and remove from heat. Let stand 10 minutes. Add chives and 2 tablespoons butter, mixing lightly with a fork. Serve with chicken. Makes 4 servings.

CRASH KILLS DRIVER

McCONNELSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A car he was riding in crashed into a tree stump eight miles west of nearby Malta yesterday, killing Marus J. Burr, 46, of Lancaster.

Marion Labor Group Plans Service Projects

Plans for a number of activities were discussed and placed in the hands of chairmen and committees at a meeting of Labor United Tuesday night in the Central Labor Union Hall. R. G. Beverly, president, presided.

Following a discussion of a proposal to sponsor YMCA memberships for juniors 6 to 12 and 12 to 15 years of age Dale Flanagan was named to get further information regarding the project.

Plans also were discussed and placed in the hands of a committee to sponsor a room in the new City Hospital. By-laws submitted at an earlier meeting were adopted.

Reckless Driving Costs Hollywood Actor $100

CULVER CITY, Calif. (AP)—Actor Steve Cochran was convicted yesterday of reckless driving and fined $100.

A policeman testified before Judge O. Benton Worley that he had to fire a warning shot to bring the actor's $6,000 sports car to a halt last Nov. 8.

Officer Roger Deveux said he stopped Cochran after a five-mile chase and was told by the actor: "You never would have caught me if you hadn't shot—that wasn't very fair."

'Late Calls' Pet Peeve, Nation's Doctors Agree

ST. LOUIS (AP) — What annoys a doctor more than anything else?

A number of doctors attending the annual American Medical Assn. clinic session here said the "late call" which gets them out of bed when they could have been called earlier.

Most of the doctors agreed that 11 p.m. seemed to be the peak hour for unnecessary calls.

Cincinnati Host To Ohio CIO

1,200 Delegates Meet For 4-Day Session

CINCINNATI (AP)—Opening of a four-day convention of the Ohio CIO brought approximately 1,200 delegates and numerous labor leaders to Cincinnati today.

The delegates opened their business sessions with two major items already laid out for their approval.

One was an executive board proposal for circulation of initiative petitions in an effort to force the state Legislature to increase workmen's compensation payments and otherwise liberalize the workmen's compensation law.

The board has recommended that it be empowered to undertake the referendum.

The other major proposal came yesterday from the CIO-PAC State Central Committee. It proposed that the CIO conduct a campaign to register at least 750,000 voters who now are not registered.

Rotary Hears Fred J. Milligan

Address on Progress Presented by Attorney

Fred J. Milligan of Columbus, a practicing attorney who this year is serving as chairman of the markers and signs committee of the Ohio Sesquicentennial Commission, was guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Marion Rotary Club Tuesday noon at Hotel Harding.

Basing his talk on the idea of the "Spinning Wheel of Progress," Mr. Milligan spoke of the progress made in the fields of medical science and industry.

He told Rotarians of the new signs which have been put up at the corporation limits of many Ohio cities and towns, stating that a total of 104 such signs have been erected.

The signs, he said, are the result of a year's planning and have been put up in an effort to make people more conscious of the difference in the cities and to make each town more aware of its own particular claim to fame.

Mr. Milligan is a former member of the governor's cabinet as state director of commerce, former assistant attorney general of Ohio, former assistant dean of men at Ohio State University, and a former major in the Air Force during World War II.

Visiting Rotarians at the meeting were Rob Roy McKinnis of Bucyrus, Phil Smith of Van Wert, Judge Charles A. Gurnsey of Fostoria. Guests included Judge Raymond A. Younger of Celina, Judge George S. Middleton of Bellefontaine, H. A. Williams of Willoughby, Willis Olsen of Delaware, George Wigglesworth of Columbus, P. H. Tonguette of Washington, D. C., and D. C. Wells, J. R. Smart and Cutler McGrew of Marion. The three judges are members of the Court of Appeals of the Lima District.

Student reporter from St. Mary Parochial School was Barbara Shockey.

Churches Back Film

Martin Luther Story To Open Sunday

"Martin Luther," the story of the monk who split Church and empire through his demand for religious reform, begins here Sunday for a one-week showing.

The picture which was produced in collaboration with Lutheran Church Productions is being backed here by various churches of the community.

Many of the churches are helping to promote attendance. Tickets for the showing at an approximate 25 per cent discount have been distributed to the churches and anyone can obtain them through their church. Rev. L. Harrison Ludwig, pastor of the Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church, is chairman of the committee which is promoting the picture.

The show is being shown in other cities throughout the United States on similar plans. Marion is one of the first cities to obtain the picture.

A screening of the full-length feature film was held last Wednesday at the Palace Theater for approximately 400 ministers and their wives and other representatives of churches in the area. A vast majority of the audience on evaluation sheets after the picture commented it was an exceptional picture.

The picture will be shown at regular times, with doors at the Palace Theater opening at 1 p.m each afternoon. Prices at the ticket window will be $1.25 for adults in the evening and 94 cents for the matinee. Children will be admitted for 50 cents anytime. Tickets obtained through the churches will be slightly less.

The movie is the story of the work of Martin Luther, his efforts for reform, his excommunication, and the developments that led to the origin and growth of the Protestant movement. Careful research of European and American documents of Roman Catholic and Protestant writers formed the basis for the script of the movie which took place in towns, castles and churches of West Germany.

Luther was a young law student in Erfurt, Germany, when he sought shelter in a monastery during the 16th century. As an Augustinian monk he tried to find peace of mind and soul through study, work, worship and confession but soon came to the conclusion that no matter what he did, he was not able to escape the fear of evil and punishment. So Luther fought against the sale of indulgences—letters of pardon from punishment of sin—which the Medici Pope, Leo X, had authorized. Luther demanded that the church of his day be cleansed of secular abuses and that the authority for doctrine and practice be scripture rather than the Popes or councils. When he nailed 95 points of debate against the abuse on the castle church door, what was intended as a university discussion became an argument that split the Roman Catholic Church and the Holy Roman Empire. Niall Mac Ginnis, distinguished British actor, plays the title role.

New Violence Sparks Strike

Plant Worker's Auto Wrecked in Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Five new incidents of violence were reported Wednesdayas the North American Aviation, Inc., and officials of the striking United Auto Workers-CIO continued lengthy negotiations at Los Angeles.

In one incident of away-from-plant violence, the 1949 automobile belonging to a plant worker was virtually demolished. Lancaster police said the automobile of Ellsworth E. Hart of Lancaster was blasted Tuesday night by "either a gunpowder charge or dymnamite."

Hart told police he saw sparks and believing the car afire went to get a hose. He was 20 feet away when the explosion blew off the gas tank, back window and a fender and caved in the back end of the car.

Another explosion damaged a car belonging to William B. King of Columbus. Two other Columbus men reported paint was thrown on their homes. Another worker reported six car windows smashed. All were North American employes.

In the Los Angeles negotiations, the union Tuesday lowered its demands until they were close to the offer made by company officials. Negotiations halted with the company refusing a union offer to submit their differences to arbitration.

The two sides were scheduled to meet again today.

Southern States Irked

ATLANTA (AP) — Ten southern states, peeved at Ohio's recent legislation forcing out-of-state trucks to pay Ohio's axle-mile tax, will meet Friday to decide what to do about it. Ohio formerly had reciprocal agreements with the states involved—Georgia, South and North Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee, Kentucky, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana—on vehicle taxes.

DOLLAR LOSS

REDDING, Conn. (UP)—The defeated candidate in an election of a tax collector was Florence Dollar.

Man Pleads Guilty To Drunk Driving

A Maplewood man will spend the next five days in the Marion County jail following his plea of guilty in Marion Municipal Court yesterday to a charge of drunken driving.

In addition, Melvin Wildermuth, 53, was fined $200 and costs and his driver's license was suspended for three years. He was arrested after police saw him drive his car onto the railroad tracks along E. Mill St. Tuesday and collide with guard rails around a signal flasher signal light.

In other action in Municipal Court yesterday, John E. Cochran, 42, residing at the Marion YMCA, was fined $50 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of having physical control of a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

Big 3 Expected To Heed Soviet Call for Parley

Conference in Berlin Likely; Continuation Of Deadlock Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, Britain and France probably will agree quickly at Bermuda on a terse, favorable but questioning reply to Russia's proposal for a Big Four meeting.

Indications strongly suggest, however, that even though a four-power session is held, probably at Berlin in about two months, it will simply be a conference table continuation of the deadlock between Moscow and the West which has been pointed up in the recent exchange of notes with Russia.

Two sets of facts stand out in this regard:

1. Secretary of State Dulles told a news conference Tuesday the only real issue in East-West relations is a "fresh breath of freedom" behind the Iron Curtain. In other words, Dulles says, the Western Powers' purpose in meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov will be to try to reduce the area of the Kremlin's control through agreements covering Eastern Germany and Eastern Austria.

2. Molotov said in his note last Thursday proposing the meeting in Berlin that the one big thing Russia wants to talk about is a place for Red China in the councils of the great powers. In other words, Molotov has made clear he will demand agreements from the three Western Powers recognizing an enlarged area of Soviet influence, if not domination.

Red China and Eastern Germany and Austria are widely separated places, but the principle running through these contradictory propositions is the same. There is presently no evidence of any room for compromise between the Soviet determination to expand its power and the determination expressed by the United States at least on the Western side to force that power to pull back.

Hence, authorities here believe the problem in any four-power meeting will be to fix responsibility for failure to reach agreement.

One initial but widespread reaction on this point was that it would be wise to try to nail the Russians down to a precise agenda for the conference. This may be attempted. However, the present feeling is that it would be unwise for the Western nations to get involved in any long discussions with the Soviets over an agenda since the U.S. government believes that the best thing to do with the meeting is to get it held as quickly as possible.

Nevertheless, it was said some further effort must be made to find out what the Russians have in mind and to make clear to the Soviets what the United States has in mind, which is to talk about Germany and Austria. These matters may be handled either by addressing some direct questions to Molotov or by stating Western intentions and letting him react.

Alert Scheduled

Civil Defense Workers Here Face Test Sunday

Marion's civil defense unit will get a chance to swing into action sometime Sunday. A state-wide civil defense alert will be sounded then. Time of the planned warning is being withheld to better test the reactions of workers.

The civil defense corps in Marion is a mobile support group. When the alert is sounded, members of this group will go to headquarters to await further orders.

Making up the defense corps here are auxiliary police and firemen, the Red Cross, and a mobile rescue unit. The auxiliaryy police will report to police headquarters, the firemen to the Central fire station, and the other two groups will head for their special assigned places.

The job of the defense corps in Marion, in case of a real attack, is to go into a bombed town and help evacuate the residents to Marion and other places not on the critical area list.

Sunday, the group will assemble at their special places. The purpose is to determine how quickly the members would be ready to be on the job in case of a raid.

Nine critical area cities in the state will be "bombed" Sunday. They are Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus, Toledo, Canton, Akron, Youngstown, Steubenville, and Dayton.

Reports of the progress of Marion's group will be transmitted by radio to Columbus, the area control center. As soon as the group is assembled and supposedly ready to move to help, notice will be sent to Columbus.

The civil defense unit here is not yet complete. A special rescue truck has been promised the city, but has not yet been sent. It is expected in the near future.

Traffic in the nine "bombed" cities will stop during the alert Sunday. In those places, sirens will sound the alert, warning motorists of the attack.

Warnings will be spread to civil defense workers in Marion by means of The Triangle Motor Club. Working on the principle of the pyramid club, the group will contact certain persons, who in turn will contact others, until the entire city is alerted. Motor vehicles will be used for this job since the operation of telephones cannot be assured during an emergency.

Helping out here with the job of civil defense, are the radio "ham" operators in the area. These men relay messages in time of emergency and supplement the regular police radio system.

Doctors in the city are available for emergency work. The entire civil defense unit is a group and can move from city to city as an intact body.

The job of the rescue team is to do any emergency rescue work which might be needed. They are being trained to go into bombed-out buildings and remove survivors as well as do any other similar task which is necessary.

Meetings of the various departments of the local unit are held once a month. During these meetings, the members of the different groups are given training in the jobs they might be called upon to perform.

Head of the civil defense unit in Marion is Police Captain Clyde Hardin.

Auto Accidents On City Streets Show Increase

Number of traffic accidents and persons injured in them showed a sharp increase in Marion last month compared with November, 1952.

In a monthly summary of city accidents, Police Chief Tom Coon pointed out that last month there were 99 accidents with 10 persons hurt while a year ago there were only 72 accidents and seven persons hurt during November.

Highest percentage of injuries in any type accident occurred in pedestrian - automobile collisions There were two such mishaps with the pedestrian injured in each Other injury accidents were: three hurt in 61 collisions between two or more motor vehicles and two persons hurt in seven collisions of motor vehicles with fixed objects.

The total number of accidents and injuries for this year are also ahead of last year. Through November 30 there was a total of 1,072 accidents in which 122 persons were hurt. Last year there were only 946 accidents in which 98 persons were hurt.

However, last year through November 30, police had marked up three persons killed in traffic accidents on city streets, this year to date there has been but a single traffic death.

In 1950 for the first time, more than half of U. S. citizens were women.

Eisenhower Reaffirms His Faith in Brownell

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today, commenting on Democratic charges of laxity against the Justice Department, he has as much confidence in Atty. Gen. Brownell as in any other Cabinet member.

The President told a news conference this does not mean members of his administration, including himself, have not made mistakes.

He did not elaborate, but said he understoo dBrownell was issuing a statement later today giving the complete facts on situations which have drawn Democratic criticism.

The chief one of these is in Denver where U.S. District Attorney Charles Vigil, a Democrat, was fired. Federal Judge Willis W. Ritter charged from the bench the FBI refused aid in a jury tampering investigation directed by Vigil.

Eisenhower said he himself will go after corruption wherever it turns up.

Galion Residents Wed

GALION — When Mr. and Mrs. Chester Richard Bates return from a wedding trip to New York City, they will reside in an apartment here. They were married Thanksgiving Day at First Evangelical and Reformed Church here. Rev. R. R. Elliker officiated. The bride is the former Janet Carol Rensch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rensch, of near Galion and Mr. Bates is the son of Mrs. Thelma Bates of Galion and the late Chester Bates. Attendants were Mrs. Richard Logan, matron of honor, and Mrs. James Kelso Jr., and Miss Marilyn Revert, bridesmaids. James Bates was his brother's best man. Usher duties were performed by Clark Swalley, Everett Dysinger, Jack Robinson, cousin of the bride, and Richard Logan. The reception was at Hotel Talbott where 150 guests were received. The former Miss Rensch was graduated from Galion High School, and Columbus Business University. She is associated with her father in the Superior Cleaners. Mr. Bates also was graduated from Galion High School. He is employed at the Central Ohio Steel Products Co.

ALL IN THE FAMILY

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP)—Uncomfortable in a tight-fitting coat and pair of pants, District Judge A. C. Winborn phoned his wife and told her to call the cleaners and tell them they sent him the wrong suit. Mrs. Winborn called back to say, "You put on Bud's suit this morning." Bud is the judge's 15-year-old grandson.

Girl Finds Enjoyment In Music, Contracting

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (UP) — Building apartment houses can be just as enjoyable as listening to classical music, says pretty Mary Cassaro, who is handy at both.

She is president of the International Institute and the Jersey City Philharmonic Guild, active in the Metropolitan Opera Guild and a collector of operatic recordings.

But she plans to return to the contracting business her father operated until his death four years ago.

Her father, Salvatore Cassaro, built a number of apartments in Jersey City and neighboring communities. Mary, just as appreciative of the music of hammers and saws as that of a famous aria, was an executive in the Cassaro corporation, handling contracts, working as her father's secretary and runing the personnel department.

Mary, who has four college-trained sisters and a brother in the contracting business, attended Dickinson High School and Drake's Business College.

After that hammers, nails, saws and blueprints became as much a part of her life as her cooking and record collecting.

Bird Expert Seeks Red-Color Canary

HIGHLAND FALLS, N.Y. (UP)—Someday, you may be able to buy a canary to match your red and white kitchen curtains.

Mrs Max Stroppel has a cellar stocked with 200 birds and through cross-breeding them, she hopes to produce a cardinal canary.

She started five years ago with a pair of Harz Mountain canaries. Today, her birds run the gamut of all shades of yellow and orange; some are a soft bluish-gray; others are cinnamon, even apricot-colored.

The cinnamon and apricot shades come closest so far to Mrs Stroppel's goal.

By crossing a Venezuelan black-hooded red siskin with a canary, she obtained a dark mahogany-shaded male, and she's hoping that as time goes on the red strain will grow stronger and result in the first all-red canary.

ROUGH RIDE

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—Mrs. Mary Kratzke, 41, nursed a bruised head and a cut hand, but considered herself lucky. It could have been worse. Mrs. Kratzke was hit by an automobile, hurled on top of the hood and carried two blocks as the car slammed into three parked autos.

STARTING EARLY

PEABODY, Mass (UP) — When firemen with three engines and an aerial ladder arrived at a fire box from which an alarm had been sounded, they found a 3-year-old boy waving and grinning.

Oxnam's Song Selection Proves Inappropriate

WASHINGTON (UP) — Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam got a come uppance recently from a fellow churchman during an annual business conference.

The conference was running ahead of schedule and the presiding Oxnam decided there was time for the singing of a hymn.

"Brother Day," said the Bishop, "will you lead us in Number 44?"

The Rev. Albert E. Day, Baltimore, arose, opened his song book to the number, slammed it shut, and said sharply:

"I will not."

The amazed Oxnam jumped, looked at the title of the song, and laughed with the congregation. The title was "Day Is Dying in the West."

Mt. Gilead Bazaar Nets $250 Toward Hospital Project

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD — Morrow County Hospital Women's Service Division members netted about half the price of a deep freeze unit for the hospital with proceeds from their Saturday bazaar.

The service division raised about $250 Saturday, half the price of the deep freeze which they set ou to buy. The bazaar was held at the American Legion clubrooms. Featured door prizes included a package from Gov. Frank J. Lausche; one from Roy Rogers; and a 1954 Ohio Yearbook. Mayor Arthur Ward donated a ticket to the Lion's banquet to hear Cleveland baseball pitcher Bob Feller on Thursday night, Dec. 10.

Boasting a county-wide membership of more than 170 members, comprising 14 units, the service division is continually doing things for the new hospital such as mending, making tray favors every Sunday and holidays throughout the year. Women members handle the service car three days each week, run errands and talk to patients. Latest project is a Christmas party for patients and personnel.

An average adult not engaged in manuel work in a temperate climate needs about 2,500 calories of food a day.

WED THANKSGIVING DAY

GALION — Thanksgiving Day was chosen by Miss June Ann Lamb for her wedding when she became the bride of Donald Rood. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer H. World Peace Goal at Bermuda

Churchill Primed for Valiant Attempt For Crowning Achievement of Career

TUCKER'S TOWN, Bermuda (AP) —Britain's Prime Minister Churchill winged over the Atlantic today to the Big Three meeting here which he hopes will be a major step toward the last big goal of his crowded 79-year-life—lasting world peace.

French Premier Laniel was expected tomorrow and President Eisenhower Friday. An authoritative source reported the U.S. Chief Executive hoped to win France's ratification of the European army pact with an assurance America would maintain its present "combat effectiveness" in Europe if France okayed the army plan.

Churchill's American-built Stratocruiser, which left London late last night, was scheduled to refuel at Gander, Nfld., and arrive in Bermuda in mid-afternoon.

This holiday spot's worst recorded storm blew out to sea in advance of Sir Winston's arrival after drenching the island yesterday with 3½ inches of rain in just an hour. A fresh northeasterly wind brought clear weather.

The most stringent security regulations in Bermuda's history were set up to guard the Big Three during their talks, which begin Friday. Troops, barbed wire and other devices ringed the conference headquarters, the Mid-Ocean here, to make it as nearly spy-proof and assassin-proof as possible.

Churchill, whose principal aim is to sell Eisenhower and Laniel the idea that Russia might now agree to a live-and-let-live policy between East and West, appeared likely to run into an American roadblock in any attempt to concentrate initially on world problems in general.

The Americans reportedly plan to demand attention first to what they consider the prime question facing the free world—French ratification of the European Defense Community Treaty setting up the proposed six-nation European army, including German troops.

The source reporting Eisenhower's plan to pledge maintenance of American strength in Europe emphasized that it involved 'combat effectiveness," instead of a definite number of troops.

This gave the impression that new developments, especially in the atomic field, might cause the United States to feel she could help defend Europe against possible Russian aggression with better weapons, more efficient organization and fewer men.

There was no definite indication of such plans, however.

Laniel won a grudging vote of confidence from the French National Assembly last week on his policy of fostering European unity. But deputies made it clear their approval did not extend to the projected European army. The EDC Treaty is due to come before the Assembly for ratification next February.

One French objection to the pact, signed by West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxembourg and France, is that Britain is not associated more closely with it.

Britain reportedly already has told France she cannot bind herself to keep on the continent the 4½ divisions she now has in Germany. However, Churchill is expected to renew previous British offers of cooperation with EDC and consultation with it before any British troops are shifted from the continent.

On the question of a reply to Russia's recent acceptance of a Western proposal for a Big Four foreign minister's conference, the three government chiefs were reported already in agreement.

They appeared ready to say in effect, "Let's have them meet in Berlin about the end of January and talk over the state of the world."

The United States was said to be eager to have the reply to say the West especially would like to discuss the reunification of Germany and the Austrian independence treaty but there was no indication the Americans planned to put their desires on an "either discuss that or we won't talk" basis.

NOTES 89th BIRTHDAY

UPPER SANDUSKY — W. H. Castanien, of this city, will observe his 89th birthday Friday at his home here. He is in good health and able to take a walk every day downtown, to get the daily paper. On Sunday, Nov. 29, members of his family gathered at his home to enjoy a turkey dinner in his honor. In attendance at the dinner were ten of his 11 children: 17 of his 26 grandchildren, and ten of his 12 great-grandchildren.

No. 2 Style Center Seeks Home Trade

DALLAS, Tex. (UP) — Dallas fashion manufacturers have designed to impress the home folks as well as the rest of the nation with their style savvy.

The 47 firms in the Dallas Fashion Center have put together a glittering Christmas present for the city. It's an advance show of their fashions which will appear in 25,000 retail stores around the country after the holidays.

It's believed to the the first such show in fashion history and is available to any group in the Dallas area which wants to become acquainted with clothes in the home town.

The manufacturers complain that the home town women are among the least informed about the city's manufacturing industry, although the Dallas label is known in New York, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Chicago, and dozens of other cities.

Six thousand retail buyers from throughout the United States swarm into Dallas four times a year to markets, sponsored by manufacturers and the American Fashion Association, an organization of salesmen and representatives of other lines who show their fashions in Dallas.

Sales at the retail level are estimated at $160,000,000 to $250,000,000.

From the standpoint of the number of buyers who attend and the number of lines displayed to buyers, it is the nation's second largest fashion center, out-ranked only by New York.

Korean Talks May Go on Indefinitely

By RAY FALK

TOKYO (NANA)—The Korean political conference may drag on for two or three years in the opinion of a very high American administration official.

Under no circumstances can the Red Chinese government gain U. S. State Department recognition in return for Communist concessions in Korea, it was emphasized.

This official believes that the political conference will be held and that eventually it will bear fruit—that North and South Korea will be unified, United Nations and Chinese armies will be withdrawn and perhaps as a face-saving device for the Chinese a neutral corridor will be set up immediately south of the Yalu River.

It is believed that under the proper political pressure the Chinese Communists will eventually give in. It is argued that indefinite Communist opposition to Korean unification will damage Peiping's standing in southeast Asia.

THE TWO ALTERNATES, it is felt, are unacceptable to both the U. N. and the Communist sides.

1. Resumption of fighting. Neither side wants it.

2. Indeterminate maintenance of the status quo. Also unacceptable to both sides in the long run.

In expounding this theory the U. S. officials called attention to the fact that the leaders of Asia are in much less of a hurry than we are and that it took two years of negotiating to attain an armistice.

President Syngman Rhee, the United States feels, will finally see things our way and not resume fighting as he has threatened. Lieut. Gen. K. S. Thimayya's handling of the neutral nations repatriation commission has impressed Dr. Rhee favorably. Before India's Jawaharlal Nehru made his ill-advised statement that the POWs should be held beyond the 120 days, Rhee was being won over to Indian participation in the peace conference.

THE HIGH AMERICAN official said that it is the administration's policy to withhold recognition of Communist China and to oppose admission to the United Nations until Peiping withdraws its support from the Communist forces in Malaya and Indochina and the Korean problem is settled.

Frankly, the spokesman said, it is not to be expected that any of these prerequisites will materialize because "the Chinese Communist revolution hasn't run its course and won't for some time."

In U. S. administration circles Peiping is still considered a junior partner of Moscow—not a puppet but definitely capable of standing on equal level with the masters of the Kremlin.

The general outlook in Asia is considered good for the free world. It is realized that if Indochina were to fall, Malaya, Burma, Thailand and Indonesia would have great difficulty remaining in the western camp.

BUT THE FIGHT in Indochina is one Americans can understand, it is said, and that with money and equipment these former French colonies can be saved.

In Indonesia, the problem is more subtle. The country is considered safely on our side for the next five years. What worries observers are the thousands of Indonesian students who yearly journey to China for university studies. In ten years from now they'll be running the bureaucracy, the labor unions and the nation. Their orientation will be toward communism — not democracy. It has been suggested that these students go to Formosa, India and perhaps Japan for their studies.

The fact that the overseas Chinese, who have their ears close to the ground, are turning anti-Peiping is taken as a hopeful sign.

THE MICHIGAN State Supreme court has put its okay on suit of University of Michigan Prof. Albert Hyma against a Detroit spiritualist, whose seances Professor Hyma claims resulted in his losing $16,400 in bad stock market investments. The spiritualist is Mrs. Lillian Lee. Professor Hyma holds a knighthood from the Netherlands government for research in Dutch history.

Steers, Sheep Die As Radnor Barn Burns to Ground

Special to The Star

PROSPECT—Fourteen sheep and four steers perished Wednesday noon in a blaze at the E. P. Jones farm, three miles south of Radnor on Route 203.

Approximately 100 tons of hay and straw and several sows and pigs also were destroyed in the fire which leveled a barn and threatened a machinery storage building and hen house. Firemen from Almendinger's garage in Prospect extinguished the blaze which lasted over three hours. The Prospect garage which owns two fire trucks, holds contracts for coverage in Prospect Township, Marion County and Radnor and Thompson Townships in Delaware County.

The blaze was caused apparently by a heat bulb catching fire to straw in the pen of the barn which housed the pigs and sows. The fire was well under way by the time firemen arrived. A passing truck driver had noticed smoke coming from the barn and notified Mrs. Jones.

Jones is a noted raiser of pure bred Angus livestock.

Ancient Gun Barrel Is a Museum Piece

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Smithsonian Institution has received a 400-year-old cannon barrel.

The barrel is the built-up type, constructed of wrought-iron bars and rings with a three-inch bore. It is believed to date from 1550 or before and is possible the earliest ever found in the western hemisphere.

The barrel was found on a coral reef off the Florida coast by Edwin A. Link, who presented it to the Smithsonian. It will form part of an exhibition of objects recovered from early shipwrecks.

They were unattended when they were married Oct. 7 in Auburn, Ind. They are living in Columbus where Mr. Weithman is employed by the North American Aviation Co.

Mineral Discovery Thrills Hawaiians

HONOLULU (UP) — Hawaii's first important mineral discovery, a rich deposit of titanium, has been "re-discovered" on the island of Molokai.

The ore, essential in the manufacture of tool steels and lightweight airplane metals, assayed as high as 30 per cent, according to Dr. G. Donald Sherman, University of Hawaii geologist.

Titanium has been found in several sections of Hawaii but never in sufficient quantities to be exploited.

The Molokai find is by far the richest yet discovered in the territory. Large deposits have been located on the Island if Kauai, but they are of such low grade that it was found unprofitable to develop them. On Oahu, practically within sight of Honolulu, a highgrade titanium ore was found atop the Koolau Mountains, but it is so inaccessible that plans to mine it were abandoned.

The latest "discovery" is situated in open country on the nearby island of Molokai, fifth largest in the Hawaiian group.

Dr. Sherman and other mineralogists knew of the titanium deposit on Molokai since it was noted in an earlier survey, but little attention had been given the ore body as it was believed to be only a shallow deposit of low-grade titanium.

Dr. Sherman made another and more extensive inspection of the area recently and found that the two-square mile deposit carried 30 per cent ore in deeper quantities than had been suspected.

The area is easily accessible, and four American companies already have requested samples of the ore and details of the find.

Dr. Sherman said it is impossible to forecast the potential wealth of the discovery until more exhaustive studies of the area are completed.

About three-quarters of the trailers being sold to Americans are more than 30 feet long although in 1948 more than 83 per cent were under 30 feet.

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

Cities Merge Fire And Police Forces

CHICAGO (UP) — Seven communitites in the United States and Canada have combined their police and fire departments, and the Public Service Administration has begun a study of the feasibility of such mergers.

The PSA will seek to determine how well the consolidated systems work, whether they could be used in big industrial cities; what improvements could be made and how the public has accepted the change.

Buena Park, Calif., is the most recent community to adopt the idea. Others having some form of an integrated system are Sewickly Heights, Pa., Grosse Pointe Shores, Mich., Huntington Woods, Mich., Montreal-East, Que., Oakwood, O., and Sunnyvale, Calif.

Timmons, Ont., with a population of 27,743, is considering such a merger.

Officials of the seven communities reported that a major advantage of the consolidation is that it saves money without reducing efficiency.

Montreal-East, with a population of 5,000 and a business district containing 22 stores and 29 industrial plants, has saved about $26,000 a year, its officials reported.

Sunnyvale, population 15,000, is the largest community to adopt the consolidated system, and Seickly Heights, population 671, is the smallest.

Opponents of the plan often base their objections on the difficulty of training personnel for both fire and police duty.

According to the PSA experts disagree on the best way to carry out the functions. Some say the duties are so different that separate units are necessary.

Others assert that is only one safety function—the protection of citizens from hazards—and that the same persons should be responsible for the whole field.

Another view is that a compromise arrangement should be made, based upon the size of the city or the specific talents of the individuals employed.

KRUGER SOUVENIR

NEWBURYPORT, Mass. (UP) America's oldest active banker, 102-year-old Henry Bailey Little, wears as a watch fob a South African sovereign given him some 60 years ago by "Oom Paul" Kruger, the South African statesman.

EARRING COLLECTION

MEMPHIS, Tenn.(UP) — Some persons collect stamps, others rare coins and matchbook covers, but with Eleanor Schwab, it's earrings. Miss Schwab has 72 pairs of earrings, ranging from ones of real mink to a pair with tiny bells that tinkle as she moves her head.
